THAW'S CHAUFFEUR THREATENS TO "PEACH"

Library of Congress

Says He Is "Up Against it" and Wants Aid from Thaw Family

May Tell What He Knows of the Escape from Matteawan

THOMPSON ADMITS IDENTITY

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 22.—"Gentleman Roger" Thompson, the New York chauffeur held under the Dominion immigration laws as having aided Harry K. Thaw, legally a lunatic, to cross the Canadian frontier, announced from his cell tonight that he was "up against it," and that if the Thaw family didn't come to his rescue he would perhaps in justice to himself be forced to tell all he knows about Thaw's escape from Matteawan, and thus complicate the proceedings under which Thaw's lawyers hope to obtain his release on a writ of habeas corpus next Wednesday.

Tonight Thompson removed the smoked eye glasses he has worn since his arrest and openly admitted that the name "Mitchel Thompson" he had given the authorities was fictitious and that in reality he is Roger Thompson, car salesman and dare-devil chauffeur, who drove the black machine which whisked Stanford White's slayer away from Matteawan.

Admits Real Identity.

"Sure, I'm Roger Thompson," he said. "I need money and help now and it is up to the Thaws. I was 'framed up' in getting in this case and they ought to stand by me now. I haven't a cent and if they admitted me to bail I couldn't raise the money. Even if I could, I would be arrested if I crossed the New York State line. It's rough stuff. The other four fellows mixed up in the game made their getaway. But I stuck to Thaw to the finish and I'm the goat. That's pretty hard."

"What about the details of the escape?" he was asked.

"Don't ask me," said Thompson, "I can't talk about that now."

Thaw in a cell above "Gentleman Roger" refused even to admit he had even seen him. "Oh, that man!" he exclaimed. "You know I can't talk about him."

Counsel had been employed for Thompson by the Thaw family, and it was through their efforts that his arraignment today as a violator of the immigration laws was postponed until Friday next. His lawyer is Louis St. Laurent, of Quebec. It was admitted by the chauffeur that the "Thaws" had retained St. Laurent, and that they expected him (Thompson) to keep his "trap shut." He added grimly that he thought they ought to do more than give him a lawyer.

"All they want," he said, "is to keep my case separate from Thaw's I wish I hadn't mixed up in it."

Thaw had a quarrel with his many attorneys today. They had warned him to issue no statements, but he insisted on talking about what he described as omission on the part of newspapers in Canada and the United States in not printing in full a recent statement of his lawyers quoting William Travers Jerome as saying Thaw was sane.

"This omission has outraged the British idea of fair play," said Thaw. "They believe in a square deal," he fidgeted as he spoke, bit his nails to the quick, and rumpled up a pile of letters and telegrams on the pine table in his cell. On the window sill stood a bouquet of wild flowers sent him by an anonymous woman sympathizer. Over the pine table sprawler the remains of a meal served by a local hotel. Thaw's appetite apparently is good for only bits of food remained. "But I haven't had a thing to drink but water," he smiled.

Whitewashed walls encompass Thaw. An iron cot stands in the cell corner. He makes his toilet at an iron sink.

Mr. LaForce, the jailer, said tonight that his observation indicated that Thaw "had spells". "He is queer," he said, "but he has behaved fine."

Believes Prisoner Sane.

Dr. Joseph Noel, the jail physician, who has examined Thaw daily, said this afternoon that he regarded him as sane. It was said the doctor had been watching Thaw's actions at the request of the Dominion immigration authorities.

Whether he submitted his findings to them formally he declined to say. During his varying moods today Thaw was reminded of the predicament in which his escape from Matteawan had placed Howard Barnum, the old gatekeeper past whom he fled to freedom.

"Thats too bad," said Thaw. "Barnum didn't know a thing about what I was going to do. He was a victim of circumstances. He is innocent and the charge against him should never have been made."

Thaw telegraphed instructions tonight to William VanAmee, his attorney at Newburgh, N. Y., to assist Barnum in any court procedure at Thaw's expense.

New York State officers waiting here for Thaw's release on habeas corpus, and his seizure then by immigration authorities, admitted tonight that they were at sea as to where he would be deported in that event.

"It doesn't make much difference," said Franklin Kelsey, deputy attorney general from New York. "We have arranged to hasten extradition in either Vermontor New Hampshire. We'll get him sye. It doesn't mat-

Joins in Minority Fight.

OPPOSED TO FREE RAW WOOL

Senate Republicans Stubbornly Fight Democratic Proposed Reductions in Woolen Manufactures of Tariff Bill.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Stubborn opposition to free raw wool and the radical reductions in woolen manufactures proposed in the Democratic tariff bill was conducted by Republicans of the Senate all day today, and will be resumed tomorrow.

Senators Warren, of Wyoming, and Penrose, of Pennsylvania, addressed the Senate for six hours, the former characterizing the proposed bill as "tariff for politics only instead of for revenue only," and the latter asserting that the woolen schedule as prepared by the majority was "distinctly against America and for Europe."

In the midst of the day's discussion, Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, introduced the third minority substitute for the woolen schedule, the others having been proposed by Senators Penrose and Smoot. The wide divergence of minority views on the subject of wool demonstrated in this triumvirate of measures, was pleasing to Democratic leaders, who confidently asserted that they did not need to talk "because we have the votes."

Though an effort will be made by Chairman Simmons, of the Finance committee, and other majority members, to get a vote on the woolen schedule by tomorrow night, the vote may be prolonged until next week, Senators Smoot and LaFollette planning to debate the measure at length.

Senator LaFollette's proposal was distinguished chiefly by its rate of 15 per cent ad valorem on first grade raw wool, a rate originally suggested by Democrats of the House Ways and Means committee before President Wilson insisted upon free raw wool. The LaFollette measure also proposed that second grade raw wools be free, and would provide ad valorem instead of specific rates throughout, contrary to the recommendations of the tariff board and the views of his Republican colleagues, Senators Root and Penrose.

"From the British standpoint," said Senator Penrose, of the Democratic woolen schedule, "this bill is almost too good to be believed. It actually carries many rates of duty much lower and more favorable to British interests than the New York importers representing the foreign manufacturers dared to ask for.

His own amendment, Senator Penrose believed to be in accordance with the desires of the great majority of the American people for protection, while making considerable reductions from the existing law. "These are real and substantial reductions," he said, "but it is believed that the rates proposed will save wool growing and wool manufacturing from serious injury."

Senator Warren in a lengthy analysis of the wool situation, declared that under the proposed law, immense sums would be lost to the producers of wool without benefit to the consumer.

Senator Lippett, of Rhode Island, criticised the action of the Finance Committee majority in reducing the House rate of 15 per cent. on comb wool, or to pass to five per cent., a rate which Republican leaders said today they have reason to believe would be changed to ten per cent., when the bill reached conference. The Rhode Island Senator asserted that the domestic cost of converting raw wool into combed tops was nearly twice as much as the foreign cost.

"Talk about free wool!" said Senator Lippett. "A five per cent. duty o ntops, it is worse—it is a bounty as far as foreign wool tops are concerned."

Senator Stone, in charge of the wool schedule, failed in aneffort to get an agreement for a vote on the wool schedule tomorrow morning.

BANKERS CHANGE VIEWS ON CURRENCY

Attitude Toward Owen-Glass Bill Now Conciliatory

IMPORTANT CHANGES PROPOSED

Bankers in Conference at Chicago Advocate Plan to Support President Wilson's Views in Monetary Legislation.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—A spirit of conciliation and compromise toward the Owen-Glass Currency bill as it is believed it will be amended, was manifested at a conference of leading bankers from all parts of the country held here today. Before the conference adjourns tomorrow it is expected that resolutions recommending several important changes in the Currency bill, now pending in Congress, will be adopted, and that the bankers will use their influence to assist President Wilson in obtaining currency legislation.

The change in the attitude of the bankers developed after George M. Reynolds, president of the Continental and Commercial bank, had addressed the meeting and told of an important conference he held in New York yesterday with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, at which amendments to the Currency bill desired by the bankers were discussed and assurances given that the administration was willing to remedy every reasonable objection to the measure.

Mr. Reynolds was summoned to New York to confer with Secretary McAdoo last Wednesday, to discuss the attitude of the bankers toward the proposed legislation. Mr. Reynolds outlined the bankers' principal objections to the measure. In addressing the conference today, Mr. Reynolds said:

"If we act wisely, I believe we will be able to obtain material modifications in the Owen-Glass Currency bill, now pending in Congress.

"We probably will not be able to get everything we want, but I believe President Wilson can put through some kind of a currency bill, and I favor co-operating with him in securing the best measure that political exigencies will permit.

"I believe we can get the number of Federal reserve banks reduced from 12 to 5 or 6; that we can have changes made in the clause referring to the chairman of the Federal reserve board which will remove it from politics, and that we can have the advisory committee of bankers clothed with the power of veto in connection with the management of the reserve banks."

Mr. Reynolds was vigorously applauded and a moment later the attitude of the bankers toward the new currency bill apparently had changed from opposition to willingness to compromise.

T. J. Wade, of St. Louis, also urged a policy of conciliation and endorsed everything Mr. Reynolds had said.

Other speakers urged the adoption of the same policy in discussing the measure.

James B. Forgan, of Chicago, opened the discussion by introducing a set of resolutions, pointing out what he considered defects in the bill, and advising that Congress be asked not to pass any currency legislation at the present session, but defer action until a new bill had been drafted by a commission composed of representatives of the Government, the bankers and business men of all classes appointed by the National Chamber of Commerce.

The resolutions were read and after discusion were referred to the Committee on Resolutions. The committee will submit its report to the committee tomorrow. The following Committee on Resolutions was appointed:

Representing the State Banking associations: E. J. Hill, Connecticut; Nathan Adams, Texas; George A. Holderness, North Carolina; H. A. Moehlenpak, Wisconsin; R. S. Hawes, Missouri.

Representing the Clearing House Associations: R. F. Maddox, Atlanta; Stoddard Jones, Los Angeles; S. D. Pitton, Hamilton, Ohio; E. F. Swinney, Kansas City; Graham G. Lacey, St. Joseph, Mo.; J. W. Foote, of Hattiesburg, Miss., introduced a resolution suggesting an amendment authorizing banks to continue charging exchange fees on checks, which was referred.

Andrew J. Frame, of Waukesha, Wis., expressed the opinion that the new Currency bill did not provide for the preservation of the gold standard, as the treasury notes were redeemable in gold or other lawful money.

"I think we should consider the bill too piece by piece or section by section in a spirits of helpful co-operation, and see if we cannot aid the government to accomplish wise and wholesome legislation, and that will place our industries and our people on a par with other great commercial nations.

This pledge of co-operation by A. Barton Hepburn, in his speech as chairman, was an evidence of the attitude the bankers are to maintain in their consideration of the pending currency measure. Mr. Hepburn gave "high praise" to the administration for its earnestness in taking up the schedule. He commended many features of the bill, but did not hesitate to indicate that there were others which in his opinion needed revision.

The failure to fully develop the central bank idea, which, he said, was recognized in principle, in its consequent effect on its many provisions of the bill was the criticism of the greatest emphasis.

BRYAN ENDORSES THE CURRENCY BILL

Supporters of Administration Measure Score Important Victory

PROPOSED CHANGES DEFEATED

Washington, Aug. 22.—Supporters of the Administration Currency bill scored an important victory in the House Democratic caucus today when they brought to their aid qualified endorsement of the measure from Secretary Bryan, and defeated the proposed "insurgent" amendments that would have prohibited interlocking directorates in National or State banks incorporated under the proposed new law.

Secretary Bryan, in a letter addressed to Chairman Glass, of the Currency Committee, approved the bill as it stands, declaring President Wilson had recognized fundamental rights of popular control in its provisions. He asserted that the plank of the Democratic platform against inter-locking directorates was directed chiefly at trusts, and he urged Democrats to "stand by the President" and not to load down the currency bill with any amendments which

SAYS HE HIRED CONGRESSMAN

Herbert E. Miles Tells Senate Investigators How Former Representative Watson Was Employed to Work for Tariff Board.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Herbert E. Miles, of Racine, Wis., testified to the Senate Lobby Committee today that, acting for the Tariff Commission Association, he employed former Representative James E. Watson, at a salary of $250 a week, to work for a tariff board bill in Congress in 1909. He confirmed Martin M. Mulhall's testimony that Mulhall advanced the first $500 paid Watson who was not then a member of the House. Miles denied that the National Association of Manufacturers sought to elect or defeat candidates for office.

Miles declared he would not have permitted Mulhall to advance the money had he known the National Association of Manufacturers was to reimburse him. The witness was asked to explain a letter from Mulhall saying Miles expected him to control Speaker Cannon.

"The only explanation I can give is that the exaggerated ego," said he, "Mulhall could not lift the capitol or control the Speaker."

Miles charged Mulhall with stealing a letter he had written in 1909, saying Speaker Cannon was against a tarif board. He said Mulhall used the letter to make it appear that Miles was assailing Cannon.

Henry E. Davis, a Washington attorney, who got $4,000 from local money lenders to work against the Federal "Loan Shark" law, told the House Lobby Committee he acted only in the capacity of a lawyer presenting the case of the brokers to Congressmen and former President Taft.

Martin M. Mulhall, former lobbyist of the National Association of Manufacturers, followed Attorney Davis on the stand before the House Committee. Mulhall repeated parts of his story before the Senate investigators.

At one point he swore that he used the "secert room" in the Capitol in the Summer of 1911 to help former Representative Coundrey, of Missouri, Representative Stafford suggested that Mr. Coudrey had ceased to be a member of the House several months before that time.

OUTLINES

Senate Republicans are stubbornly fighting free raw wool and reductions proposed by the Democrats in the tariff bill.

Herbert E. Miles testified before the Senate investigators that former Representative Watson was employed on a salary to work for a tariff board in Congress in 1909.

Supporters of the Administration Currency bill in the House scored an important victory when the measure was endorsed by Secretary Bryan.

Williams Travers Jerome has been appointed a sspecial deputy attorney general to represent the State in procuring the return of Harry K. Thaw to New York jurisdiction.

Bankers in session at Chicago have adopted a conciliatory attitude toward the Owen-Glass Currency bill, but will recommend important changes in the measure.

President Wilson's message on the Mexican situation will not be presented to Congress before Tuesday Dispatches announce that Huerta may reconsider the rejection of the American proposals for peace in Mexico.

New York markets: Money on call steady 2a2 1-2, ruling rate 2 1-4, closing bid 2a2 1-4. Flour steady. Wheat easy. Turpentine barely steady. Rosin quiet. Spot cotton quiet; middling uplands 12.15; gulf, 12.40. Sales 200 bales.

An Interesting Mexican Fortification.

Chapultepec is a fortress two miles southwest of the city of Mexico, located on a rock formation 150 feet high and crowned by a castle erected in 1785 by the Spaniards. It was the scene of the decisive battle in the Mexican war. The fall of Chapultepec at that time opened the causeway to the capital of the republic and compelled the Mexicans to terminate the war. Since then the castle has been transformed into a beautiful Summer residence for the President of Mexico, while adjoining it is the Mexican military school, often called the West Point of Mexico.

GRAVE CRISIS IN HUERTA GOVERNMENT IMMINENT

Regime of Provisional President, Now in Financial Straits, May Re-consider Its Rejection of American Proposals to Restore Peace in Mexico

Washington, Aug. 22.—The Huerta administration in Mexico may re-consider its rejection of the American proposals to restore peace in Mexico and arrange anew basis for negotiations with the United States before next Tuesday. Strong intimations to this effect reached official Washington tonight along with the information that the financial condition of the Huerta administration was such that a crisis was imminent.

Should the Huerta Government decide to enter into a new basis of iscussion, withdrawing its contentions as expressed in the Huerta note repiying to the proposals communicated by Mr. Lind, President Wilson will in all probability not read his message to both Houses of Congress on Tuesday as he intended.

The President made no effort today to prevent the House from adjourning until Tuesday. It had been supposed that he would read the message Monday and would ask the leaders of Congress to arrange a joint session. Failure to send any word to the leaders was interpreted in official circles as meaning that the United States had practically given the Huerta government until Tuesday to make up its mind finally as to what it would do.

It is positively reiterated that the United Sates will continue to insist upon the resignation of Provisional President Huerta or an announcement of his intention to do so, as well as his elimination from the Presidential race, in the subsequent election.

Wilson Preparing Message.

President Wilson spent the day studying the notes exchanged by Lind and Huerta and preparing his message. While House officials announced that no copies of the document would be distributed in advance to the press as has been the custom for years, as it was desirable to keep the document abreast of developments to the last minute. The message may be modified by dispatches received Tuesday, and there also is the possibility that the President may find it expedient to postpone delivery of the document.

Huerta Officials Friendly.

Reports from Mr. Lind declare that his relations with the Huerta officials are more cordial than before, and that the Huerta officials manifest a willingness to find some new ground for a settlement.

European diplomatic pressure, it is known here, is quietly at work in Mexico City in an efort to convince Huerta officials that the policy of the United States is being approved abroad. The failure of the Huerta government to obtain funds in Europe through the non-recognition of the United States is pointed to by the diplomats as likely to continue, pending a more respectful consideration of the American proposals.

Huerta's Army Dissatisfied.

It is learned from authoritative sources that the Huerta government is facing a mutinous army, dissatisfied because no pay has been forthcoming for weeks.

It was apparent tonight that Washington officials expected word from Huerta before Tuesday and that unless it comes the notes will be proclaimed to the world through the President's message showing the efforts of the American Government to bring about peace along with suggestions for a definte line of procedure by the United States in the future.

White House officials, however, were confident that the situation would unravel itself. They would not disclose what their optimism was based on, but it is believed that reports from Mr. Lind today were largely responsible for the confident feeling.

Fifty Bandits Slain.

Fifty Mexican bandits have paid with their lives for the killing of one German subject, according to reports to the State Department today. The German whose name was not given, was put to death by bandits near Mexico City Wednesday night. A federal force sent out in pursuit captured and killed 50 of the slayers.

Americans at Saltillo were reported safe today. Railroad communication from that point south still is uncertain.

Mexico City, Aug. 22.—Nine battles between Federals and Constitutionalists are reported to havetaken place during the last 24 hours. All the fights are recorded as federal victories.

According to official reports the military situation throughout the republic is greatly improved. The rebels are said to be generally disheartened and on the defensive in all quarters.

These official reports virtually are the only source of information on which news for local consumption is based. The other side of the story rarely reaches the capital because of interrupted communication and censorship of dispatches at points outside the capital. In three of the fights reported 175 rebels are said to have been killed while the federal loss is given at eight.

The situation about Torreon is now admitted to be slightly worse. It is understood the rebels control much of the country about that section and that 1,000 more are marching southward to reinforce those already there. General Pena's headquarters at Mont Clova has reported a portion of his men cut off by the rebels and in need of help. General Joaquin Maas, who is marching northward from Mont Clova, has been expected to disclose his movement in order to co-operate with General Pena. The government expresses confidence and Pena and Maas will be able to check the southward movement of the rebels.

Situation Improved in Chihuahua.

Improvement in the situation in the State of Chihuahua is reported by the government. The public has been given no news from Guaymas, Sonora, for several days except assurances that the rebels in that vicinity are demoralized because of dissensions between the rebel leders. It is understood that the federal General Ojeda will attempt no advance in Sonora until he is reinforced.

Admissions are made that the rebels are gaining headway in the State of Sinola, south of Sonora. The government however, insists that this headway is not important. One of the recent exploits of the rebels in Sinola was the destruction with dynamite of a Southern Pacific railway bridge 223 feet long.

Activity Increased in Morelos.

Increased activity has been displayed lately i nthe State of Morelos, where federal General Robles has been given a free hand to destroy the followers of Zapata. The newspapers today quote official reports from Morles, saying the State is free from rebels at last. These reports say the last of them, including Zapata, have gone south into the State of Guer-

AWARD CONTRACT FOR ARMOR PLATE

Pittsburg Company to Furnish Material for New Dreadnaught

NOW UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Secretary Daniels Attributes Big Saving in the Deal to Agitation favoring Establishment of Naval Armor Plate Factory.

Washington, Aug. 22.—A contract for 3,900 tons of armor plate for the newest American dreadnaught now under construction, was awarded by the Navy Department today to the Carbon Steel Company, of Pittsburgh, at $187.-04 per ton, a reduction of $96.99, or 36 ped cent. under the last accepted bid for this material. The Carbon Company, which never before has sought a large government contract, and the Carnegie Steel Company, were the only bidders.

Secretary Daniels attributes the saving of $378,261 to the government on this contract to the agitation in favor of establishing a naval armor plate factory. In the past it has been the custom to divide contracts between all bidders at the lowest figure submitted and all the manufacturers have put in virtually identical bids.

Real competition developed today for the first time in years. They, however, will not interfere with Secretary Daniels' determination to press upon Congress the government-owned plant plan. He said today there was no assurance that the new bidder for government work would not be forced into agreement with the other concerns and expressed the opinion that if the government owned a factory capable of producing half the armor plate needed, there would be no further danger of combinations to raise the prices.

The secretary issued a statement recalling his recent letter to the Senate, urging the necessity for competition in armor plate contracts and suggested a Congressional investigation of the subject.

"In the light of these remarks," he said, "I am peculiarly gratified to announce that the lowest and accepted bid received on 3,900 tons of special treatment steel plates, for Battleship No. 39, shows the marked reduction of 36 per cent. under the last accepted bid for this class of material."

NAVAL EXAMINATIONS.

For Second Lieutenants in United States Marine Corps.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Secretary Daniels announced today the names of the 17 men who stood highest in examinations for second lieutenants in the United States marine corps. Sixteen vacancies are to be filled, but as two men tied for 16th place, it placed 17 men on the eligible list. The Secretary said he would decide later which of the two tied he will appoint. Sixty-five took the examination. Only one enlisted, J. C. Foster, of Carlisle, Pa., took the examination. He stood second.

Among the men passing the examination were D. C. Murchison, Charleston, S. C.; A. H. Turnage, Farmville, N. C.; G. W. Hamilton, Dalton, Ga.; and L. M. Bourne, Jr., Asheville, N. C.

Secretary Daniels today ordered that beginning October 1st, enlisted men in the Navy may be required to remain in training school at the discretion of the commandant four months instead of three and in some cases they may have to stay as long as six months. Such schools are located at Chicago, San Francisco, Newport and Norfolk.

HEATH MURDER TRIAL.

Tisdale and Underhill Will Hardly be Convicted in First Degree.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Kinston, N. C., Aug. 22.—The case against James Underhill and Joseph Tisdale for murder of Carlisle Heath, which has consumed the past two days in criminal court here, will be given to the jury tonight or early tomorrow.

The last of the defense evidence was taken this afternoon and argument by counsel began. Because of the prominence of the victim and defendants, the court house has been packed at every session. No sensational testimony was had and it is generally believed the first degree verdict asked for by the State will not be rendered, if Underhill and Tisdale are convicted.

ARGUMENT UNFINISHED.

In Trial of Leo M. Frank, Charged With Murder.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 22.—Contrary to expectation, argument in the trial of Leo M. Frank for the murder of Mary Phagan was not completed today, Solicitor General Dorsey being in the midst of the closing speech for the prosecution when court adjourned. Mr. Dorsey will resume his argument tomorrow morning, after which Judge Roan will deliver his charge. The fate of the accused factory superintendent will then rest with the jury.

Luther Z. Rosser, chief counsel for the defense, made the closing speech for his side earlier today.

COLONEL SCOUTEN DEAD.

Well Known in West as War Veteran and Newspaper Man.

Levenworth, Kas., Aug. 22.—On the 50th anniversary of the Quantrell raid on Lawrence, Kas., Col. Dan G. Scouten, a survivor of that historic raid of Civil War times, died here last night at the age of 73. He was a newspaper writer, known in Missouri and Kansas, and in the days of Horace Greeley, was a printer for the New York Tribune.

MACKS BUNCHED THREE HITS

Won Yesterday's Game With Five Hits—Boston Downed Naps—Boehling Dropped Another. Yanks and Tigers Split.

Although "Red" Russell, the sensational young pitcher of the Chicago White Sox, allowed the Connie Mack clan but five hits in nine innings, the leaders managed to bunch three of them in the eighth inning, which with some real inside baseball and clever base running, yielded two hits and won the second game of the series by a 2 to 1 score. Houck and Plank, on the mound for the Athletics, allowed only seven hits between them in the entire affair.

Hugh Bedient and Vean Gregg engaged in a pitchers' battle at Cleveland yesterday afternoon and came out with honors even, but the former by virtue of a little classier support won the game by a 2 to 1 score.

Joe Boehling was again bowled over by the St. Louis Browns in yesterday's game, the Missourians hitting him for 11 safeties, while Mitchell kept the Senators' hits well scattered.

The Tigers took the first end of a double-header from the New York Yankees, but the Chancemen evened up by taking the second contest by a 12 to 7 score. Russell Ford was knocked off the mound in the first battle.

Three Bunched Hits.

Chicago, Aug. 22—Quick thinking, clever base running and three bunched hits today gave Philadelphia the second game of the series with Chicago 2 to 1.

BAILEY MADE CUSTODIAN.

Appointed to Look After Federal Building in Raleigh.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 22.—At the request of Senator Simmons and Representative Pou, the Treasury Department has appointed Collector J. W. Bailey custodian of the Federal building at Raleigh. The change will give Mr. Bailey an opportunity to appoint Democrats to several minor positions in connection with the care of the building.

J. F. Speighnour, of Morganton, is here in the interest of Manly McDowell, who wants to be marshal for the Western district.

M'LAUGHLIN THE WINNER.

Defeats Clothier in Annual Championship Tennis Tournament.

Newport, R. I., Aug. 22.—Showing a mastery of tennis technique such as he has not heretofore exhibited on the Casino courts, Maurice E. McLoughlin defeated William J. Clothier heer today in straight sets at 6-3, 7-5, 6-4. This victory of the present champion in the sixth round of the 33rd annual tournament of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, eliminated one of McLoughlin's most formidable opponents and probably assures him a place in the final and championship round next Tuesday.

While the McLoughlin-Clothier match was on, six other players were battling for the right to enter the closing rounds.

Nat Niles earned a place in the semi-finals by defeating Leon Beekman in straight sets. R. Norris Williams, second, won from B. C. Law in a similar manner.

In the lower half J. R. Strachan eliminated E. H. Whitney. Strachan has been allotted the grand stand court tomorrow with Wallace F. Johnson, of Philadelphia. The winner of this match meets McLoughlin Monday while Williams and William M. Washburn will cross racquets for the right to face Niles in the other semi-finals.

C'CALL TAMMANY CANDIDATE.

Will Run for Mayor of New York on Fusionist Ticket.

New York, Aug. 22.—With Edward E. McCall's acceptance today of Tammany Hall's designation as its candidate for mayor, and John Purroy Mitchell, collector of the port, already picked to lead the fusionists, Mayor William J. Gaynor was placed in the lists for re-election on an indpendent ticket by his friends this afternoon.

Announcement that Gaynor would run was made by Louis Goodman, president of the Eastside Gaynor Association, after Mr. Goodman had called Mayor Gaynor at the city hall. Prior to Mr. Goodman's visit Mayor Gaynor issued a statement indicating his willingness to be a candidate.

Present plans of the association and two other organizations supporting Mayor Gaynor are to place the mayor at the head of "the strongest ticket they can pick out" without regard to organizations that may have endorsed his running mates. Thus the independent ticket may be partly fusion, partly Tammany and partly new.

For Next Year's Yatcht Races for the America Cup.

New York, Aug. 22.—Contracts between the New York Yacht club and the Royal Ulster Yacht club for next year's race for the America's cup have been signed, sealed and delivered and nothing now stands in the way of the contest. The official announcement to this effect will be made in a day or two.

TIGERS TIED DOOIN DAISIES

Giants Took Second Straight From Chicago Cubs—Reds Won from Dodgers—Braves Outbatted the Cardinals.

Despite Manager Charlie Dooin's optimistic prediction that he would catch the Giants before the next Western invasion, the Giants continued their pennant prance by taking the second straight from the Chicago Cubs yesterday afternoon, the count being 8 to 1. The Giants' secen hits were good for eight tallies, while the Cubs only lacked one run across with five hits, the Giants playing errorless ball. Big Jeff Tesreau was seen in action on the mound for the Giants.

The Pittsburg Pirates, after taking three out of five games from the Giants, and the first game of the series from the Phillies on Thursday, played a 12-inning tie game as the second scheduled event at Philadelphia yesterday afternoon, the game being called at the end of the 12th with the score 3-3.

The Cincinnati Reds won a slow and featureless game from the Brooklyn Dodgers, the score being 7 to 2. George Johnson officiating for the Reds and Allen and Rucker for the Dodgers.

Boston's timely work at the swatting station won yesterday's game from the ragged fielding of the St. Louis Cardinals by a 9 to 1 score. Rudolph kept the Cards' hits will scattered after he went in in the second frame.

Tesreau Fanned 'Em.

New York, Aug. 22.—New York made it two straight over Chicago today, winning the second game of the series by 8 to 1.

ROCKINGHAM PARK RACES.

Three Races, All Stake Events, on Yesterday's Card.

Salem, N. H., Aug. 22.—Three races, all stake events, and all for trotters, were on the card at Rockingham Park today. The feature race was the three-year-old trotting division of the American Horse Breeder Futurity worth $6,000, which was won by the Pennsylvania cold Dillon Axworthy, in straight heats. Peter Johnson was the only one of the field to give him an argument. Tom Murphy kept up his winning career in the 2:09 trot, taking it with Marigold in straight heats.

The 2:18 trotting stake furnished the best race of the day. Judson Girl was returned the winner after four heats. She broke in the second and lost to Star Winter.

Washington, Aug. 22.—With a view to obtaining increased appropriations for coast survey work, Acting Secretary Sweet, of the Department of Commerce, today left for Chesapeake Bay to make an inspection of the shifting channel between Capes Henry and Charles.

Boston Red Sox Are the Best Ninth Inning Ralliers

Boston fans probably have a perfect right to complain of the showing of their Red Sox in the pennant race this season, but they have no reason to hint that the world's champions owe their present position in the championship standing to lack of recuperative powers. The Speed Boys have proved to be the best ralliers in the American League this season, having won seven games in the ninth inning and only having let three contests escape from them in the final spasm. The Naps and the Senators have also captured seven battles in the last regularly scheduled round, but the Clevelanders have met with defeat seven times in the final chapter and the Washingtons have been bested five times in the wind-up period. The records of the other American League teams in games decided in the ninth inning is as follows: Detroit won 5, lost 6; St. Louis won 5, lost 6; Chicago won 4, lost 4; New York won 3, lost 4; Philadelphia won 2, lost 5.

In 35 of the 40 American League games decided in the ninth this season, the winning run was put on the records either on a hit or an out; in three contests errors turned the tide; in one a steal of the plate settled things, and in another the pitcher forced the deciding count over by issuing a pass. Only one American leaguer has succeeded in driving home the winning marker in three contests. He is Tris Speaker, of Boston, who won the Chalmers car offered to the most valuable player in the younger organization last season. The trophy winner has caused defeats to be marked up against Chief Bender, Willie Mitchell and Earl Hamilton this season by striking telling blows in the ninth chapter when the count was knotted.

Players who have won two games for their teams by producing timely hits in the last inning this year are Duffy Lewis, of Boston; Ivan Olson, of Cleveland; Maurice Rath, of Chicago, and Pete Compton, of St. Louis. The latter was acting in a pinch-hitting capacity on each occasion he made himself popular with his boss, George Stovall. Other sub swatters who have won games in the ninth this year are Carisch, of Cleveland; Brief of St. Louis, and Williams, of Washington.

Heroes of the Ninth.

Boston 7—Speaker 3; Lewis 2; Carrigan 1; Gardner 1.

Washington 7—Ainsmith 1; Moeller 1; Morgan 1; Williams 1; Milan 1. One of the Senators' ninth inning victories was due to a steal home by Gandil, and another to an error by Lapp, of Philadelphia.

Cleveland 7—Olson 2; Lajoie 1; Carisch 1; Graney 1. The winning runs in Cleveland's other ninth-inning victories were due to errors by Bodie of Chicago, and Dauss of Detroit.

St. Louis 5—Compton 2; Brief 1; Agnew 1; Johnston 1.

Detroit 5—Crawford 1; Moriarity 1; Gainer 1; Cobb 1. Gregg, of Cleveland, forced in the winning run in one of the games won by the Tigers in the ninth.

Chicago 4—Rath 2; Collins 1; Easterly 1.

New York 3—Peckinpaugh 1; Midkiff 1; Sweeney 1.

Philadelphia 2—McInnis 1; Lapp 1.

The pitcher who has figured in the greatest number of ninth inning reverses this season is Tom Hughes, of Washington. He has been the Senators' moundman in three games that the enemy have grabbed at the finish. Walter Johnson has not let any games escape in the ninth. On the contrary, the Senators have rallied four times in the ninth behind the Idaho Phenom this year and pulled games out of the fire. The American League pitchers charged with ninth inning defeats this year follow:

Beaten in the Ninth.

Cleveland 7—Steen 1; Cullop 1; Gregg 1; Kahler 1; Falkenberg 1; Blanding 1; Mitchell 1.

St. Louis 6—Hamilton 2; Stone 1; Baumgardner 1; Leverenz 1; Weilman 1.

Detroit 6—Lake 2; Bush 1; Dubuc 1; Willett 1; Klawitter 1.

Washington 5—Hughes 3; Groom 2.

Philadelphia 5—Bender 2; Brown 1; Plank 1; Bush 1.

New York 4—Keating 1; Ford 1; Fisher 1; Schulz 1.

Chicago 4—Scott 2; Russell 1; Walsh 1.

Boston 3—O'Brien 1; Wood 1; Hall 1.

Charlie Dooin Still Hopeful

Philadelphia, Aug. 22.—"I am more than satisfied with our team and am justly proud of our record," said Manager Dooin, of the Quakers, today.

"I firmly believe that we will come mighty near to tumbling the Giants out of their perch before we are called upon to go West again. We are going at the right clip just now, and with the boys simply aching for a chance to get busy I cannot but feel that we will soon be on top.

"I have succeeded in getting Josh Devore from the Reds, and, believe me, I am very much pleased because Josh will find plenty for him to do. I have not heard from him as yet, but I expect him to come in tonight ready for work.

"Then, I will be ready for duty myself. I was just right when Bescher, the big outfielder of the Cincinnati Reds, jumped on me with his spikes and laid me on the side lines again. However, it is only a question of a few days when we will all be as good as ever, and ready to give battle to any of them."

BLEASE SENDS REQUISITION

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 22.—A requisition came today to Governor Craig from Governor Blease, of South Carolina, for J. F. Gregg, who is wanted in South Carolina for unlawfully practicing medicine. The view is taken here that the offense charged is one merely in violation of South Carolina statute and is not extraditable. However, annother phase of the case is that Gregg was under bond for trial and his bondsmen are seeking him to save themselves the loss of the forfeiture. It is possible that extradition may be accomplished on this ground.

Governor Craig issued a requisition today on the Governor of Georgia for E. H. Gray, wanted in Anson county for embezzlement and false preense.

A pardon is granted by Governor Craig for Wilson Curran, Anson county, serving three years for manslaughter. The pardon is on recommendation of the county authorities, court officers and others, and is on account of collapse of the prisoner's health, mentally and physically, the contention being that humanity requires the pardon.

Back in Raleigh after his vacation, and hard at work daily at this desk in the executive offices, Governor Craig has taken up golf playing in earnest as a necessary recreation and may be seen on the links of the Raleigh Country Club most every afternoon. His friends who are watching his games with keen interest, say that he is mastering the game rapidly and he boasts that he has learned the secret of the game in the concentration of the mind on the drive or the put and, keeping the eye on the ball when the blow is being delivered. The Governor is most often one of a foursome and playing with him may most frequently be seen J. W. Bailey, the new collector of internal revenue; W. S. Wilson, assistant Secretary of State; and Theo Webb, one of Raleigh's best known young business men. The one thing, above all others, that it is insisted that the Governor needs in his equipment for the game is an outfit of the latest golfing togs. These are expected to follow soon.

BURGAW MISSIONARY RALLY.

Mr. George E. Leftwich, of Wilmington, Delivers an Address.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Burgaw, N. C., Aug. 22.—The Missionary Rally was held here today at the Baptist church and was quite well attended. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. W. C. Dicksly, after which there was a short business session, followed by the address of welcome by Mrs. Lauchlin McNeill. The responses were by Mrs. Alsa Carr, Mrs. H. B. Thomas and Mrs. Bruce Williams.

After this came the address of Mr. George E. Leftwich, of Wilmington, which was most admirably delivered and filled with such effective argument that it was highly appreciated. A general discussion in which a number participated followed the address.

Dinner was served on the grounds and as usual there was plenty of it. Brief exercises by children followed the noon hour and Mrs. Leftwich delivered a talk to them. Problems of the work with children were discussed and solutions suggested. Altogether it was a very successful meeting enjoyed by every one.

An excursion leaving here yesterday for Richmond carried about 200 people, which, at $5 each, amounted to $600 which the train also carried away. Another excursion to Norfolk is planned for next month.

Sunday Rev. R. E. Peele preached his farewell sermon to the Burgaw church he has been serving. It is understood that he will engage in evangelistic work. It is hoped he will continue to reside here as his friends would hate to see him and his family leave.

The reports of the Bank of Pender and the Bank of Atkinson show them to be in a healthy condition and doing a profitable business. These banks are a great help to their respective communities.

Farmers are engaged in pulling fodder and the weather has been fairly good for the work. Scientific farmers say more is lost than gained by fodder pulling, but forage must be had and if there isn't hay there must be fodder.

Rev. P. L. Clark has returned from his vacation and will fill his usual appointments from now on.——Mr. and Mrs. W. B. McNeal and son left yesterday in their automobile for Jackson Springs where they will spend two weeks.——The Pender Beach party has returned after a week's stay, all reporting a nice time and they plan a two weeks' visit next Summer.

CITY LOSES DAMAGE SUIT.

Verdict for $1,000 Against Greensboro on Account Sewage Outlet.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, Aug. 22.—The jury in the case of James D. Donnell vs. the City of Greensboro, this morning, returned a verdict giving damages in the sum of $1,000 to the plaintiff on account of the city's sewer discharge into North Buffalo creek and consequent depreciation in the value of the plaintiff's land as the result.

Six issues were submitted to the jury. The first was as to whether or not the plaintiff was damaged and the second as to the amount of damages. The third was on the question of nuisance, to which the jury answered in favor of the city. The jury also answered that one of the septics tanks was not operated as provided by the State Board of Health. An appeal was taken by the city.

J. E. Maddox, general sales manager for the Armour Fertilizer Company, has opened offices in the Southern Life & Trust building. Six rooms are used by the concern. With hi mare D. F. Crawley, office manager, and R. A. Braddock, credit man. There are ten people connected with the office besides these and a force of salesmen. The company has three plants in this State—the largest is here and others at Wilmington and Newbern.

OLD "CRACKSMAN" SENTENCED.

New York Yeggman Found Guilty of Cracking Safe in North Carolina.

Gastonia, N. C., Aug. 22.—William Dunn, alias "Irish Jimmy" was convicted in the Superior Court here today of cracking the safe of the McAden Cotton Mills at McAdenville, and sentenced to eight years in the State's prison. Dunn says his home is in New York, and it is alleged that he belonged to a band of yeggmen that operated in this State several years ago when the safe at McAdenville was robbed. His wife came here from New York, and was present during the trial.

CONGRESS IN REVIEW.

Summary of a Day's Work in the House and Senate.

LANDS POORLY SURVEYED.

Government Finds Variance in Running Out Mountain Property.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 22.—In surveying mountain lands in the southern Appalachian and White Mountain regions with a view to government purchase under the Weeks law, the forest service surveyors find that the tracts, in many cases, contain more land than the acreage set by the original surveys. Taking the region as a whole, the acreage of lands surveyed by the government exceeds by 1 per cent the acreage believed to be in the tracts by the people offering the lands.

In certain instances the discrepancies of the old surveys, made generally with a compass and by surface measurements, are much more than this amount. Such an instance is that of a tract in northeastern Tennessee, which was supposed by the owners to contain 850 acres. The survey by the forest service, made with a transit and by horizontal measurements, credits the tract with 1,481.88 acres. Over-runs of this kind, amounting to from 5 to 8 per cent, have been shown in a good many tracts.

On the other hand, these increases are partly offset in other cases in the rougher hill country, where the old surface measurements gave an excess over the actual amounts the tracts contain by the government's horizontal surveys. Perhaps the most frequent cause of shrinkage is in the location of overlappings by some older grant which results in the elimination from the tract of some part or parts which were considered as belonging to it.

A man can cut twice as much wood by sharpening his axe. He can also produce twice as much on his land by draining it and putting it in good condition. Progressive farmers are doing it and showing how it can be done.

GOT "MECHANICAL MAN'S" GOAT.

Didn't Make Automaton Laugh But He Stopped Performance.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Aug. 22.—M. J. Blanke, who devised a novelty advertising scheme which has won fame for him throughout the country, was one of the principals in an affair which caused no little excitement at the corner of Queen and Caswell streets here.

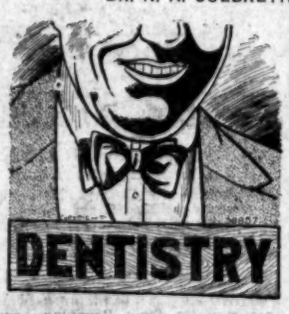

Blanke is known as the "mechanical man", a title which is copyrighted. "Made up" to imitate a wax figure, he sits in the display window of a fashionable ladies' shop, and with an illusion caused by an arrangement of wires and a buzzing sound giving an electrical effect, goes through a series of motions for hours at a time without tiring. The deception is complete, the man's head swaying from side to side and up and down with automatical precision. It is estimated that a million people have seen the "mechanical man," and perhaps the greater number of them were deceived by his appearance. Blanke offers $25 to the person who can make him laugh. For eight years people have sought to win the money, but no one has yet succeeded.

Jake Mewborn, a messenger at a Queen street cotton mill office, succeeded in making the mechanical man frown, however, by his efforts to achieve the oposite. Blanke alleges that Mewborn was insulting in his actions. Mewborn denied this, stating that he was endeavoring to make the set features of Blanke relax into the wrinkle of mirth that so many others had sought to see there. The "mechanical man" became very much alive, and when he began to unbuckle the electrical apparatus Mewborn fled. At the Caswell monument 100 yards away he halted, and Blanke came up with him. Hot words and the lie were passed, Mewborn drew a knife and Blanke retreated, hundreds of onlookers satisfied upon the question which had shortly before been passed upon by a well known local physician, who ridiculed the idea that Blanke was other than a mechanical device.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months; $1.50 for three months; 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line to persons carrying a regular account, or, if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, excursions, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under the same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper, in the discretion of the editors.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and, if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

ALL DRAFTS, checks, express money orders and postal money orders for the paper should be made payable, and all communications should be addressed to,

Some men don't mind throwing the first stone if the other fellow hasn't got a gun.

A consumer may bite off more than he can chew, but he is not apt to do it at the present price of a real juicy steak.

If President Huerta's nerve holds out he may be able to win a compromise that will let him down easy when the time arrives.

Universal peace will never be in sight till the nations abandon the universal idea of acquiring territory by force of arms if necessary.

When crop selling time comes the fight is on between the buyers and the sellers. It is the independent seller who can afford to hold out for his price.

The Governors' conference meets this year at Colorado Springs, Colo. Probably that is so far away Governor Blease will decide to stay on his job and stir up something else in Columbia.

The Congressmen are going to stay in Washington "till the snow flies". If they let a handful of Republicans whip them out, it would take them a year to explain and then be left at home in the next election.

A French writer throws out this hint to women: "If you want to know the character of the man you intend to marry, watch him eat a peach." A better way would be to watch him smile at every peach that passes.

Wilmington business men are unanimous in the opinion that the Fall business looks good to them. Good crops are reported everywhere in North Carolina and the South Atlantic, and they are the crops that get the cash.

Governor Sulzer declared that the charges against him are a "frame up". He can at least raise a reasonable doubt in his behalf by naming some of those who have made the charges. When some politicians want to reform the others won't let them.

There isn't the slightest room for doubt that the newspapers in their eagerness to get front page matter, greatly add to President Wilson's embarrassment in handling the Mexican situation. The attitude of both the administrations at Washington and Mexico have either been misunderstood or misrepresented alternately.

Atlanta's new city charter, just signed by Governor Slaton, "is in one sense a freak," says an Atlanta dispatch. It weighs over 10 pounds and has to be carried around in a hamper basket. Probably it will be another kind of freak if it does not contain something to hamper efficient municipal government in Georgia's capital city.

In one of his numerous speeches of late, Secretary Daniels said: "If you advertise, make good." Those who make good do it by advertising. The merchant who advertises knows he can deliver the goods and his advertisement is the best evidence that re believes his goods will suit. Advertising good goods is what gives a firm reputation, so that when they advertise the public knows there is something in it. "If you advertise, make good." If you want to make good, advertise.

Violations of the proprieties in dress in Wilmington are so few and far between that it does not call for preachments, but as dressing is a matter of public interest and criticism at all times, most everybody can agree with Miss Gould, fashion editor of the Woman's Home Companion, who condemns anything like the immodest, the grotesque, the too utterly too-too, and the conspicuous in woman's dress. She writes: "Fools dress so that people will turn around and stare at them. I want women to dress so that people will not stare at them. I want them to look well, be comfortable, feel fashionable, and yet accomplish all this at a reasonable expenditure of money." Wilmington's ideas of dress comport with those of Miss Gould, and the mild exceptions are so few they appear glaring.

FORAGE GROWING FOR THE CATTLE INDUSTRY.

Mr. S. M. Inman, a progressive farmer of York county, S. C., is going to demonstrate how cattle and stock can be fed without depending upon "ranges" to which frequent reference is made in the newspapers when the cattle and dairying industry is mentioned as a future possibility for the South. Mr. Inman has made a fine success in the growing of alfalfa, and he is going to plant a thousand acres in clover, alfalfa, vetch and forage crops. He is going to demonstrate that cultivated pastures and forage harvests beat the socalled and largely mythical cattle ranges of the West.

There are cattle ranges in the West, of course, and there are open ranges in the South on a smaller scale, but the choice cattle for the Chicago, Kansas City and Omaha markets are not fattened on the ranges. They are taken from the ranges and corn-fed and pastured for market, just as will have to be done in the South if it expects to produce beef cattle for the packing houses, whether they are to be in the West or established here when the industry grows.

The South's adaptability for cattle raising is recognized by the Agricultural Department at Washington because of its mild climate and its ability to produce corn and forage. The demonstration of that fact has gone far enough for the department to urge the South to come to the rescue of the meat consumers in this country. Referring to the possibilities of the industry in Tennessee the Chattanooga Times says:

"The Agricultural Department at Washington, in bulletins sent to the public, shows much apprehension for the effect the drouth that has prevailed in the West is going to have on the supply of beef cattle. The fear is apparent that there is going to be a material increase in the price of meat. The increase in meat prices has been so continuous and so persistent for several years that the public will not be surprised at further advances, and being thus promptly advised of what to expect, the people may make such preparations as may be indicated for meeting the emergency. It is noted that the information has been received in the South with a tone of hopefulness, at least in the newspaper press. For years the Southern States have been neglecting the feature of cattle raising, once a profitable part of the farmer's annual output. A widespread call is being made upon the Southern farmer that he again become a cattle raiser.

"Commissioner of Agriculture Peck, who has given the subject much study, is sure that the raising of stock in Tennessee, included in which is the raising of beef cattle and sheep, is one of the manifestly profitable openings the farmer has for making money. Tennessee has large areas of waste lands that properly cultivated could in a few years be made into rich grazing lands. This State is subject to no prolonged drouths and its climatic conditions are altogether favorable to cattle raising. The diseases to which stock is susceptible may be easily controlled with the proper care and attention and the only drawback lies in the apparent indifference of the farmer to the means and methods, so easily accessible, for redeeming his worn-out lands for the purposes of pasture."

It is a mistake to presume that we should utilize worn out lands for the cattle industry. We should use the best lands we have for producing forage and grazing. Of course, there need not be any worn out lands if we will restore them according to the modern methods of agriculture, but in order to make the cattle raising and dairying industry a success we will have to lay the foundations in good grazing and ample forage and corn production. We have right here the cattle feed produced in our cotton oil mills, and we can grow corn and forage if we will not try to do it on any sort of old land. We are now recovering our agriculture from that method and we should start right with our cattle industry.

That industry is bound to come to the South and the shortage of the meat supply in this country makes it one of the greatest possibilities of Southern husbandry.

LEARNING TO TEACH AGRICULTURE.

The Star yesterday noted the fact that County Superintendent of Agriculture J. P. Herring, of New Hanover county, is at the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, Raleigh, attending a short course of study and lectures for the benefit of the farm demonstration agents in this State. The people of New Hanover will be pleased that their agricultural teacher, already a good one, is among those who desire to take a higher course and thus equip himself for more efficient and useful service.

Mr. Herring already has done valuable work among the farmers, and there will be continued improvement in the progressive agriculture that New Hanover has been exemplifying the past few years. He has a good line on the work here, and we hope he will have some practical co-operation by the people of the city and county. The subjects of the present course at Raleigh embrace various crops, soil restoration, fertilization and farm management, while special stress is being laid upon the importance of promoting rural health through careful sanitary precautions. That is an excellent idea, and we hope it will result in township boards of health through which that work can be better carried on. Referring to the present course for the demonstration agents the Raleigh Times says in an editorial:

"The United States farm demonstration agents are delighted with their school and their teachers at the A. & M. College, and everybody is pleased with them, since without exception they are representative men in their counties. The counties as a rule have one demonstrator, giving all of his time to this work, but in some cases there are two to a county, each giving half time. This school is, like the other Summer schools, teaching teachers how to teach, and surely a finer place could not be found anywhere than our great agricultural college, which the United States government officially rates so high. There everything is ready and the big and fine farm, dairy, orchards, vineyards, experiment station and many other things are object lessons of the finest sort."

It is in this way that North Carolina is more and more becoming a progressive agricultural State. She is now making more cotton per acre than any Southern State, and the demonstration work has been accompanied by such fine results that we expect to see North Carolina setting the pace on all kinds of crops.

New Hanover is one of those progressive counties which exclusively pays a demonstrator the year round. Sooner or later we hope to see the State aiding the demonstrators by sending to their assistance experts on trucking, fruit growing, grape growing, dairying and cattle raising. We would like to see a grape expert sent to this section, so its increasing grape growing industry can get the benefit of his knowledge. He could not only post us on the adaptabilities of this section for grape culture, but impress the vital importance of caring for the vines after they are planted and come into bearing.

One New Hanover farmer has 40 acres planted in grapes of different varieties, and the probability is that he would succeed all the better by having a call from a viticulturist.

Demonstration work can cover so many branches of agriculture that it can be seen that there is an immense work along that line as the whole subject of agriculture gradually develops.

COLD STORAGE DISTRIBUTION.

The distribution of cold storage products out of Wilmington has great possibilities in it, and it gratifies The Star to have chronicled yesterday the fact that the business in Wilmington has justified the expectations of the management of the cold storage department of the Independent Ice Company.

The growth and importance of the company's business is indicated by the fact that it is exploiting the field for cold storage supplies Superintendent Rodgers now being away on a trip to purchase 10,000 barrels of apples for his company. The apples will be put in cold storage, as they are graded, packed and branded ready for shipment on the demand of the local market and outlying territory. Other fruits, as well, will be carried in cold storage subject to orders.

This Wilmington concern also has departments for carrying dairy, grocery, mill and meat products that require refrigeration, and the gratifying announcement is made that the operations of the company have been profitable and that it is becoming one of the most important of the new undertakings in Wilmington.

There is no reason why Wilmington should not become the wholesale distributing point for cold storage products held in stock for the Carolinas. This point is close to the trade, and as it is a port, all branches of the cold storage business can be carried on here to the greatest advantage.

Most everybody stands on the corner because it is equal to a front seat. A man loafs on a corner because he can't take the risk of loafing in the middle of the street. So far as the corner is concerned, there is nothing the matter with it, but blind men know it is no use wasting time hanging around on the corner to get a glimpse of the passing show. Seeing things from a street corner has never been known to bring on a riot—not even among those with imaginations that run riot. Among the passing throng, not one man or woman out of a thousand is so dressed as to disturb the equilibrium of an individual who has an equilibrator in his coco. Some imaginations can "make a mountain out of a mole hill," create "a tempest in a teapot" and bring on "much ado about nothing." Others see "nothing in it" and very little of that.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Yesterday we told how the railroads are giving North Carolina the "rough house" treatment by discrimination in freight rates charged on shipments of moving picture supplies. The day before, that it was the unjust charge on hearses that was shown, and today it is in shipments of cheese. All shipments and all parts of the State are affected by this intolerable discrimination.—Raleigh News and Observer.

The official orders of the Pennsylvania railroad to its employes to watch women's skirts reads very much like natatorial instructions to a duck.—Washington Post.

The Wilmington Star says that when an editor becomes a politician he loses caste. Our observation is that when an editor becomes an officeholder the public loses more in one direction than it gains in the other.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

The drought has done other things than cause farmers in the West to dump cattle on the market and pray for rain. In one Missouri county hogs are being fed wheat instead of corn because the former is 4 cents a bushel cheaper than the latter. Every report from the drought section that tells of blistered crops excites sympathy in South Georgia and also wonderment that farmers out there don't emigrate to this part of the country.—Savannah News.

Leader Underwood does well to warn the public that the new tariff with its free cattle and free beef will be unable to bring beef prices lower for the coming Winter at least. Drought in the West will cause further shortage by affecting corn, and theer is a present lack of foreign supplies. According to his observations, Canadian beef raisers cannot compete with those of the United States because of natural disadvantages. Small shipping facilities forbid any but correspondingly small importations from South America. With peace restored in Mexico, we could hope for cheaper beef from there. The Democratic party has undertaken the extremely difficult task of lowering prices without injuring any legitimate interest or adversely affecting wages. It is enough to face the outcome without encouraging expectations which clearly cannot be fulfilled.—Charlotte Observer.

An editorial in the Charlotte Observer headed, "Wilmington vs. the State," elicits a long communication in the Wilmington Star from J. Gilchrist McCormick, vice-president of the New Hanover Just Freight Rate Association. While we did not read the editorial in the Observer we infer from Mr. McCormick's reply that it implied a fear that Wilmington would stand in the way of some of the inferior cities getting relief from discriminatory freight rates, as determined by its excellent water transportation has had much to do with its growth and prosperity. It contends, and in the contention is upheld b ythe other places wit hwater transportation, that whatever schedule of rates is adopted, it should be given the same relative advantage because of its water facilities that it has had heretofore. It can hardly be blamed for so contending and on the other hand the cities in the interior cannot well be blamed for being unable to see the proposition through Wilmington spectacles. It is rather a knotty problem and it would seem that somebody will have to yield a point or two before a satisfactory solution is worked out.—Newbern Journal.

IN REPLY TO MR. WILLARD.

To the Editor of The Star:

Your issue of August 22nd contained an article from Mr. M. S. Willard headed "The Dove of Peace."

Because of Mr. Willard's prominence as a citizen, and an official, it would carry considerable weight if left unchallenged. As a matter of fact, the theoretical health conditions of Wilmington and New Hanover county have been a stench in the nostrils of decent people, as well as the public parade of scavenger carts through the markets on Saturdays. I think it unbecoming the dignity of the chairman of the County Commissioners to publish such an article.

Quoting the article, he says, "Better it is that there should be three or four boards of health in the county with separate management and expenses for each than that Dr. Nesbitt should continue in a position where he can show up the ignorance and prejudice of certain persons who do not care to be correctly informed."

Does Mr. Willard realize the extent of such an impression? New York is trying to secure Harry Thaw because of his egoism; and eliminating the character of crime he has no advantage on such a declaration. Over ninety per cent. of the physicians of this community are not in accord with the superintendent of health. Is this to be attributed to their ignorance? When there is sickness in any family, who is called to administer? Is it not some physician who does not approve of health conditions? Why appeal to such ignorance when there is one omnipresent, omniscient, and almighty? Le me suggest to the chairman of the County Board of Health, to search the statistics for the last six years and not take anyone's dictum. And I would also suggest the words of Alexander Pope:

"True wit is nature to advantage dressed,
What oft' was thought, but ne'er so well expressed."

It might be well to remind all that the present arrangement of health boards was intended for efficiency and economy. The citizens are looking for both. C. DENNEN.

'TWAS DEATH'S MESSENGER.

Footfall Heard That of Bearer of Telegram Announcing Tragedy.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Aug. 22.—Karl F. Taylor, of Mt. Croghan, S. C., who was killed when his motor car was struck by a Carolina & Northwestern passenger train near Newton yesterday, was at the time of his death touring from Blowing Rock to Fayetteville to visit his sister, Mrs. W. R. Wicker, of this city. He was expected to reach here last night, and when a footfall was heard on Mrs. Wicker's porch she exclaimed that it must be her brother. It was a messenger boy with a telegram telling of his death. His body was taken on to Mt. Croghan.

Fire originating near the boiler of the saw mill of E. S. and D. T. McDaniel, near Vander in the southeastern part of the county, completely destroyed the plant with all its machinery, equipment, at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning. Though a quantity of lumber was burned, 20,000 feet of the sawed material was saved, chiefly through the efforts of T. C. Allen, who was half a mile distant when he discovered the fire. The loss to the Messrs. McDaniel will be about $1,600. Though they have no insurance, they will rebuild at once.

M. A. Bethune, of this city, has received by parcel post a tomato weighing 25 ounces. It came from Jeff D. Sessoms, who raised it at Stedman in this county. Eleven cents postage was required to take the single tomato on its journey of a dozen miles.

Near the Atlantic Coast Line passenger depot, on Hillsboro street, a hotel of the most approved modern type is being built by T. M. Hunter, for negro patronage. This will be the first decent hotel for members of the negro race ever opened here, and is something very badly needed. It will be run by Sidney L. McQueen, a well known colored man.

GUNMEN SEVERELY RUNISHED.

Sent to Prison for Shooting Up House of a Witness in Whiskey Case.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Aug. 22.—For shooting up the homes of J. R. Fields, a white planter, and negro farm tenants, Ed Jones and Henry Wiggins, were sentenced in criminal court here yesterday to 10 and five years respectively in State's prison. No one was hurt in the onslaught, which occurred at midnight on a date early in August. Ivy Jones and Dave Sutton will be tried on a similar charge. Fields and the tenants had been witnesses in a case in Federal court against a brother of one of the four gunmen.

BABY'S FACE ONE SORE WITH ECZEMA

Cried for Hours, Could Not Sleep. Resinol Brought Rest and Cure.

Reading, Pa.—"My baby girl had eczema for over six months. It was painful and itching, she could not sleep day or night, she would scratch till blood and water would run down her neck. Then it burned her so she cried for hours at a time. The right side of her face was one sore and scab.

"I got the samples of Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment on a Saturday morning, and put them on, and put them on again in the afternoon and in the evening before I put her to bed, and she went to sleep and slept till next morning. I thought I was in heaven the first night, and by Monday the eczema was dried up so that all the scabs fell off. Resinol Soap and Ointment cured my baby." (Signed) Mrs. Wm. M. Fletcher, 544 So. 17½ St., Aug. 21, 1912.

If you or any of your little ones are suffering from eczema, rash, tetter, ringworm, or other itching, burning skin eruption, there is only one better proof of the value of Resinol. That is, try it yourself and see! You can get samples free by writing to Dept. 18-M, Resinol, Baltimore, Md. Resinol stops itching instantly. THROUGH A STAR BUSINESS LOCAL

The Independent Ice Company

Wishes to remind the users of Ice that several years ago, when we were the only manufacturers and distributors of Ice in and around Wilmington that we did not attempt to put up the price, but maintained the same old schedul that had been in force years before, although we had every opportunity to name any list of prices we saw fit. This is a cold-blooded fact, as cold and clear as any ice ever made in Wilmington, and is well worth public consideration, for the average Ice Maker would have without any hesitation put up the price, but that has never been the Independent Ice Company's way of doing business.

Two years, or more, ago, we were largely instrumental, through the medium of The Central Ice Company, of which we were large owners, of having a Special Ice Train put on at 6:00 A. M., to serve the Trolley Line patrons, at city prices.

For these considerations, we are not posing as public benefactors. They were simply good business moves, as we saw them. As for ice by other Beach trains than 6:00 A. M., the prices now in effect are the same that have prevailed for years past.

We wish to further remind the public of the superior services, and the full weight deliveries they have this season, the lack of which conditions caused such widespread complaints the past two years, when we were not directly engaged in the city delivery of ice.

That our ice and our services are appreciated is attested by the fact that our sales are 25 % or more greater this Summer than ever before.

KINGMAN CHIEF ENGINEER

Col. Dan C. Kingman in Charge of Savannah District, Almost Certain to Receive Promotion. Well Known Here.

That Col. Dan C. Kingman, U. S. engineer in charge of the Savannah district, will be the next chief of engineers, to be named the latter part of October, is the general opinion of those who are acquainted with the affairs of this department of the army. Col. Kingman is well known in Wilmington, having visited here many times, and was here only a short time ago. The river and harbor work of this district is under his general supervision.

Gen. William H. Bixby, formerly in charge of the Wilmington district, retired the 11th of this month in order to allow his friend, Col. W. T. Rossell, senior colonel of the engineering corps, to hold the position long enough so that he could retire in October with the rank of general. Col. Kingman, since Col. Rossell's promotion, is now ranking colonel of the corps, and is almost certain to receive the appointment to succeed Gen. Rossell as he is conceded to possess the experience and qualifications, and in addition the backing of the country for the place.

Relative to the appointment of Col. Kingman as chief the Savannah Morning News carried the following interview with Congressman Edwards of the Savannah district:

"Congressman Edwards says that Col. Kingman is highly thought of in Washington and that his ability and service merit the promotion that it is generally conceded he will receive. The members of the Rivers and Harbors Committee of Congress in which Mr. Edwards has been active, hold Col. Kingman in high esteem and his worth is recognized all the way down the line. Mr. Edwards talked with Chairman Sparkman of the committee several days ago and he, too, feels that Col. Kingman is the man for the place.

"There is no doubt in my mind," said Mr. Edwards, 'that Col. Kingman will be named as chief. It will be a deserved promotion and one which should be most gratifying to the people of this section. While, of course, it will mean that a new engineer will be sent to take charge of this district and its needs from start to finish. The work he has done here is a monument to him and he will know the requirements to maintain it at its present high standard. This section of the country is indeed fortunate in having had a man of Col. Kingman's capabilities in charge of its waterways."

WILL MEET IN NORFOLK.

Joint Convention of Postmasters of Virginia and North Carolina.

The joint convention of the Postmasters' Association of North Carolina and Virginia, which will be held in Norfolk September 25th, 26th and 27th, promises to be attended by 500 or 600 postmasters of the two States. Mr. W. C. Briggs, of Raleigh, president of the North Carolina Association, has stated that he expects an attendance of 250 Tar Heel postal officials, while Mr. S. Brown Allen, postmaster at Staunton, president of the Virginia organization, advises the Norfolk postmaster, that between 250 and 300 Virginia members will attend.

While the programme has not been perfected, it is announced that it will include addresses by several officials of the department at Washington. The department officials scheduled to attend are D. C. Roper, first assistant postmaster general; W. R. Spillman, superintendent of the free delivery service; M. O. Chance, chief clerk to Postmaster General Burleson; Carter B. Keene, director of the postal savings system, and H. T. Gregory, inspector in charge of the Norfolk district.

ENJOYED SUPPER AT BEACH.

Ben Franklin Club Met at the Oceanic Hotel Last Night.

Members of the Ben Franklin Club, which is composed of the employing printers of the city, had an informal meeting and supper at the Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, last night. Practically every print shop in the city was represented. A very appetizing supper was served. Short talks were made by different members of the club. Organization of the club was perfected only a few weeks ago and this was the second meeting. It is planned to have frequent meetings and the club promises to be of great benefit to the members. Mr. J. W. Jackson is president and Joseph W. Little, Esq., is secretary of the organization.

Will Pay for Bridge.

After giving thorough consideration to the matter it is now very probable that the county authorities will pay the constructors of the bridge at Hungry Neck the amount still due them, which is about $2,000. This amount was held in reserve until the government approved the bridge. The specifications first provided for an opening between the fenders of 60 feet which was approved by the government. Later this width was changed to 80 feet and this was also approved. At one point this width was narrowed to 78 1-2 feet, but as this is 18 1-2 feet wider than the first specifications provided for, the Commissioners feel safe in paying the money, although technically the government cannot approve the bridge.

Judgment Against Mr. Hanby.

After examining a number of witnesses yesterday Justice Bornemann decided to place Mr. Archie Hanby under a bond of $500 to keep the peace for six months. His brother, Mr. Louis Hanby, had a peace warrant issued against him Wednesday, and he was placed under a $250 bond for his appearance yesterday with Mr. William McEachern as surety. Soon after the time set for the trial yesterday Mr. McEachern came into court and stated that Mr. Hanby was at home and too ill to come to the trial. Justice Bornemann announced that he would pronounce judgment against him, as stated.

CRACK SHOTS ATTRACT CROWD

Several Hundred Witnessed Exhibition Given by Mr. and Mrs. Topperwein at Local Gun Club Grounds.

"Some shooting!"

That was the judgment of the big crowd who saw Mr. and Mrs. Ad Topperwein, expert marksmen, do all sorts of imaginable and unimaginable things with rifles, shotguns and revolvers yesterday afternoon at the grounds of the New Hanover Gun Club, 17th and Castle streets.

A feature of the event that appealed particularly to the crowd was the shooting of a picture of A. Mutt in a sheet of tin. Mr. Topperwein did this rapidly with a rifle, and it was a perfect likeness of Jeff's friend, drawing liberal applause and laughter as it progressed, shot after shot.

Targets of all sorts, were thrown into the air, one or a half dozen at a time, and with only a few exceptions both marksmen hit them, straight from the shoulder or in handicaps. Mrs. Topperwein played a regular tune on a tin can with a .22-calibre automatic rifle before it hit the ground. Small wooden blocks, one or several, were hit with ease; they shot brickbats to pieces and then shot the pieces as they came down; marbles of all sizes were knocked winding, and both marksmen hit a number no larger than buckshot, a stunt that brought enthusiastic cheers.

Mrs. Topperwein shot clay pigeons out of her husband's hand, and spoons, and shells from his fingers, one after another. She looked in a mirror and shot a target from his fingers. He fired a shot and hit the shell as it fell from the ejector of the gun. After targets were thrown up, each of them ran a distance, picked up their guns and hit the falling eggs, apples, potatoes, etc. Using a .351-calibre Winchester rifle and shooting a soft nosed bullet, Mr. Topperwein hit a sealed can of tomatoes and made a hole big enough "to play horse in", showing the tremendous power of the weapon. Mrs. Topperwein cut in two a card held edgewise by her husband, and the crowd marveled and applauded.

Before the shoot members of the gun club and the professional visitors, of whom there were several, engaged in a shoot and Mr. Chas. Goodwick, professional, scored 97 out of 100. Mrs. Topperwein scored 89, the smallest score she has to her credit, for she has made perfect scores for days on end.

The visitors represent the Winchester arms and ammunition, and the exhibition is for advertising purposes.

Before the fancy trick and fancy shooting of Mr. and Mrs. Topperwein the regular weekly gun shoot of the New Hanover Gun Club was held. Out of a total of 100 targets shot at the following scores were made:

Goodwick	97
Mrs. Topperwein	89
DesPortes	85
Penny	84
Dreher	84
Boylan	82
Grant	82
Taylor	86
Darden	63

Out of a total of 125 targets shot at Pearce broke 107 and Holloway 95. Out of 75 targets French broke 35. Out of 50 targets Underwood broke 33. Robbins broke 19 out of 25; Miller 17; Bishop 19; and Cooner 20.

DEATH OF MRS. HONNET.

Aged Lady Passed Away Yesterday Morning at Family Home Here.

Many friends in the city were deeply grieved to learn yesterday of the death of Mrs. George Honnet, which occurred at the family home, No. 322 South Front street, a few minutes before 6 o'clock yesterday morning. She was the widow of Mr. George Honnet, who died last January, and had been in failing health since his death. During the past few days her strength had failed rapidly and yesterday morning she passed peacefully away.

She is survived by her two sons, Dr. J. Harry Honnet and Mr. George Honnet, of this city, and one brother, Mr. Louis Otterbourg, of Chicago, Ill. She was a native of Fayetteville, and had she lived until the 25th of next December would have been 66 years old. Before her marriage to Mr. George Honnet she was Miss Marie Otterbourg, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Otterbourg.

She was a woman of many admirable traits of character. Her life was marked by simplicity and gentleness. She was intensely devoted to her family and her friends. Her tenderness of character caused her to be greatly beloved by all who knew her.

The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 11:30 o'clock from the residence, No. 322 South Front street, and will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Samuel Mendelsohn, Rabbi of the Temple of Israel.

PASSED AWAY SUDDENLY.

Mrs. Minnie del Aigle Munds Died at Her Home Yesterday.

Many relatives and friends were grieved yesterday to learn of the death of Mrs. Minnie del Aigle Munds, which occurred rather suddenly in the afternoon at her home, corner Fourth and Ann streets. She had been ill for several days, but heart trouble was the immediate cause of death. Mrs. Munds was a daughter of the late Mr. Louis and Mrs. Mary Clark del Aigle, of Augusta, Ga., and widow of the late James Dickson Munds, of Wilmington. She was in the 54th year of her age and is survived by two sons, Messrs. Theus and L. del Aigle Munds, of New York City, who are expected to arrive this morning in response to telegrams conveying to them the sad intelligence of the death of their mother; and two daughters, Mrs. W. R. Tyree and Miss Annie Munds, of Wilmington, all of whom have the tenderest sympathy of a great many friends in their bereavement. The funeral probably will be held Sunday, but announcement as to the hour and other arrangements will be made later.

DOG BITES DAUGHTER.

Father Swears Out Peace Warrant Against Owner of Canine.

Alleging that Anthony Kovasky set a dog on his young daughter and that she was badly bitten, Adam Kules, who lives at Castle Haynes, came to the city yesterday afternoon and swore out a peace warrant against Kovasky. The paper was placed in the hands of the Sheriff to be served but when the deputy went to Castle Haynes he found that Kovasky was not at home. Both parties are Hungarians. Kules claims that he sent his young daughter over to Kovasky's house to get some article, and that when she came into the yard that he set his dog on her. The dog bit her and greatly terrified her, he says. The warrant was issued by Justice Bornemann.

EDITOR GETS MARRIED.

Friends Congratulate Bride on Getting Such a Smart Man.

Friends of Mr. G. E. Clarke, editor of the Southport News, will be interested in the following from this week's issue of his paper:

"Last Saturday afternoon, 16th, inst., the editor of The News met in Wilmington by appointment his old sweetheart of 20 years ago, Miss Josephine Womble, of Thomaston, Ga., and on the same evening procured a marriage license, drove around to the rectory of the Church of the Good Shepherd, and there Rev. Mr. Noe spoke the words that united us and changed her name to ours. The bride is receiving congratulations on her good fortune to capture after so long a time such a smart man, and we are congratulating ourselves on our ability to win a lady of such unerring judgment."

MR. W. J. JORDAN DEAD.

Veteran Foreman of Stevedores for Clyde Line Passes Away.

Many people will be pained to learn of the death last night at the family residence, No. 105 Meares street, of Mr. W. J. Jordan, for 14 years foreman of stevedores for the Clyde Line at this port. Mr. Jordan was in his 43rd year and is survived by his wife and one son, Mr. Otto Jordan. He was a son of Mr. Samuel Jordan and for many years had been a loyal and faithful member of Fifth Street Methodist church. In addition to his immediate relatives, he is survived by one sister, Mrs. John R. Robinson, of Philadelphia. Funeral arrangements had not been perfected last night, but the services will be held some time tomorrow. The bereaved ones have the tender sympathy of many friends and acquaintances.

DIED AWAY FROM HOME.

Fred Miller, Sailor, Passed Away at Memorial Hospital Yesterday.

Fred Miller, a sailor who was found here by police officers last Saturday in an unconscious condition, died yesterday afternoon at the James Walker Memorial Hospital. He came to Wilmington on a German ship and nothing is known of his relatives or friends. He will be buried at the expense of the county. He was found last Saturday night lying in an alley on Chestnut street, near the Southern Express office. An ambulance was called and he was sent to the hospital immediately. His case was diagnosed as typhoid fever.

Will Preach at St. Paul's.

Rev. Dr. F. W. E. Peschau, of Miamisburg, Ohio, will preach at St. Paul's Lutheran church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock in a special service in which the two Lutheran congregations of this city will unite. Rev. G. W. McClanahan, pastor of St. Matthew's church, will conduct the services, and Dr. Peschau will deliver the sermon. Miss Catherine Vollers will sing a solo. Dr. Peschau was for eleven years pastor of St. Paul's church and is here on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Henry F. Otten, on North Fifth street.

Will Try Holbrook Today.

The trial of E. A. Holbrook, of Atlanta, Ga., who is caarged with carrying a concealed weapon, it being alleged that he shot into Banks Channel several times Sunday afternoon while riding on a trolley car, is set for today at 12 o'clock before Justice Harriss. He was arrested Sunday night by Constable Davis and was required to give a cash bond of $100. This was later, however reduced to $50, it is stated. He has been off on a fishing trip, it is stated, and the trial was postponed until he could return.

Arrested for Larceny.

Constable Davis yesterday arrested Alex Leonard, colored, on a warrant charging him with the larceny of a pistol, watch and other articles belonging to Luther Ward, colored. He and Ward roomed together and Ward went off on a visit. He claims that when he returned that the watch and pistol were gone. In default of a $100 bond Leonard was placed in jail, and will have a hearing before Justice Harriss today.

Speaks of Wilmington's Growth.

Mr. William J. Huggins, a prominent insurance man of Wheeling, W. Va., who has been spending a week here with Mr. Henry F. Otten and other friends, left last evening for his home. Mr. Huggins was here 21 years ago, and was very much surprised on his second visit at Wilmington's growth and the many improvements that have been made.

Recorder Had Light Docket.

The Recorder only had two cases yesterday, these being two young men who imbibed too freely of the fiery liquid and later found themselves in the hands of the police. They were each fined $5 and the costs. James Vance, colored, charged with forgery, will be tried Monday.

RESTORES PLEASING PLUMPNESS

Samose Sold Under J. Hicks Bunting's "No Cure No Pay" Plan.

There are a good many people in Wilmington who ardently wish they could find some way of getting fat and plump. While not ill, yet they are so thin and scrawny that their friends think they cannot be well. In nine cases out of ten this condition can be readily overcome by using the combination of flesh-forming foods known as Samose. This little tablet taken three times a day with the food does wonders in building up good health and restoring the pleasing plumpness that is so desirable.

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. is the agency for this preparation and sells it with the promise that if it does not do all that is claimed for it in making people gain in weight and in health, the money will be refunded.

You certainly can afford to try a 50c box on this plan, as Samose will cost you nothing unless it gives satisfaction.

THE BIBLE IN THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

To the Editor of The Star:

I read with much interest the able article contributed by Chief Justice Walter Clark touching that part of the constitutional amendment pertaining to the reading of the Bible in public schools. I am uncompromisingly in favor of the amendment. In spite of the support the measure is said to be given by the majority, yet not a single voice was raised in its defense.

I had wished in vain that the forces that lined up to uphold part of the Bible by defending the sacredness of the Sabbath against the sale of thirst-quenching beverages, would come to the rescue against a possible elimination of the entire Bible.

Therefore this article having remained on my desk waiting for an emergency, forces itself vividly on my attention, and causes me to throw "my hat in the ring."

For the first time have I learned that North Carolina is the only State in the Union about to adopt such a measure, for which information I sincerely thank Justice Clark. But I may be pardoned for stating that at no other time have I felt prouder for living in the State of North Carolina than at the present.

Not unlike any other question, the Bible has its two sides, the spiritual and the social. The spiritual side deals with the relations of man with God, while the social between man and man. I come now to the defense of the Bible in public schools, not on account of its religious influence, but as a mark of gratitude for its uplifting power in our social affairs. Not a great deal less than half of the world, namedly, 500 million Christians and 200 million Mohammedans recognize its authority. The good influences of this Book are too strongly interwoven with the life of this blessed nation, that the ascendency of the Anglo-Saxon races unmistakably trace its birth to its unparalleled literature.

It is also highly profitable for other creeds to consider the Bible on a business basis. I would not doubt for a moment that its most irreconcilable antagonist, if a business man at all, would rather invest his money in a Bible country than in one without it.

The same house that is worth $5,000 in godly America is worth less than $500 in godless Turkey. And while this one increases, the other decreases. The same acre of land that was worth $100 under godless Egyptian rule is worth $1,000 now under a godly English rule.

We rejected the free silver plank because experience of other Nations with the problem taught us to do it. This subject to us is more of a concern than ten or more of such planks. Therefore, let us move slowly.

Russia is not a free reader of the Bible. What is the result? Intolerance, religious fanaticism, and general massacre of Jews everywhere. We have also now before us Mexico, Central and South America, which countries are rather adverse to the reading of the Bible. What have they? We all know the answer. A series of revolutions, turbulence, and every other element that spells caution to the lover of peace.

Show me the most inimical spirit to the influence of the Bible and I will have him cured of the bad symptoms simply by asking him if he would swap his home in Bible reading North Carolina for a one in non-Bible reading Mexico.

But to me the most contemptible of all humans is the ignoramus atheist who would boast of being a non-Bible reader or non-churchgoer, yet a good man, a moral man, and as good as any to the contrary.

To this sort of blindfolded creature I would say, please retire into the wilderness of the Sudanese regions of Africa, or exile yourself with the heathens for a period of at least 10 years, and then let us see if you are as good a man, as you once represented yourself to be in America. No intelligent person doubts that environments are the greatest factors in moulding a man's character. No one should forget that even a bad seed in good land bears much better fruit than if it were buried in a poor land.

American colleges in foreign lands invariably adopt the reading of the Bible to believers and unbelievers alike, and no one seems to be hurt by the process. The scholars of one college one time represented about 20 different and distinct creeds. Some of them were of the most fanatic nature. It would seem inconsistent for us to champion the good cause elsewhere and ignore it in our midst. We don't want to be doing like France, defending the Catholics of Turkey, only to be found persecuting them at home.

Some people would argue that religion should be kept out of politics. Yes, I say so also, to a certain extent. But show me the sort of politics that cannot stand the test of religion and I will show you some rotten politics. The fact that we are living in the 20th century does not argue against Bible reading anywhere. The very word progressiveness so much in vogue in our days, owes its very existence to the Book of Books, in that yet we have to find a master of industry who does not acknowledge the authority of the Bible. The Morgans, Rockefellers, Vanderbilts, and Harrimans, as examples.

But, Mr. Editor, this is not all. For the sake of brevity the preponderance of evidence on my own side will not be brought into play, but you will permit me to use the justice's own points which incidentally support my position instead of being to the contrary.

"Let us not take advantage of our Protestant majority, in North Carolina to impose upon the children, etc., the reading of the text book of our own religious views, to do this would be to turn back the clock four centuries."

I depend on the above argument for the vindication of Bible reading in public schools. For truly, were we to amit the Bible, and history as usual was to repeat itself, it would mean a straight return to the dark days of the 15th century when the terrible instruments of torture "were used by Catholics on Protestants, and Protestants on Catholics and others."

Religious reformation and tolerance was only brought about by intelligent Bible reading. It demonstrated true religion in its true color. It brought about religious liberty, and emancipation. Because Bible readers came to realize that a true religion is one of love, charity and humanity, and not of intolerance and fanaticism.

Another point: "A wisdom greater than that of man has said, 'Render unto God the things that are God's and unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's'." It is for that very reason that we should have the Bible continue in public schools, because the majority of the taxpayers who happen to be Protestant or otherwise, expect to be dealt with on a square basis, by getting what they call for, and the good name and dignity of the State demand that they should have value received.

And as for religion being taught on mother's knee, I think we are giving the poor mother too many jobs, to say the least about the coming woman suffrage. Moreover, some children either have a godless mother or have no mother at all. I think it is the duty of the school that acquaints the child with the father of his country, to impress upon his young mind that there is also a Father to the soul.

Protestants, Catholics, Jews and others bow alike to the authority of the Bible when placed on a fraternal order's altar, without the slightest murmur. But the cry becomes the loudest only when it is humbly read to children in whose future hands we are expected to deliver the keys of our National welfare. And why Because the schools happen to have a dash of politics.

Bankers, merchants and farmers, etc., allow me to ask you. Let us suppose you want to take a trip around the world, in whose hands would you trust your interests, a believer, or an unbeliever in a Supreme being I will let you decide that question, and I know the answer would be in my favor.

The wise proposed movement is not for the purpose of conversion, as the Honorable Justice truly said, the Word of God does not need the aid of the civil arm. But I say its duty should be calculated to bring about reliable and law-abiding citizenship. Whiskey drinking or selling, rather, was not stopped because it hurts the individual, but because it had a bad effect on the community. For the same reason I plead for Bible reading, because atheism helps create anarchy, revolutions, or a despotic government.

If we use our religion as the starting point to our differences, to fan our prejudices, to uncharitably apply it in every walk of life, then I say by all means drop it. This state of ignorance represents the case of the child with a knife which he uses to his disadvantage.

But to hold that the sun is harmful because someone exposed himself to its glittering rays and had a touch of fever for his reward, is beyond the dream of the intelligent. Nor will we be caught preaching against the use of water, for drinking, washing, cooking or bathing, because three persons were drowned in one week around our shores.

No one is scared to walk into a drug store, just because it happens to hold some poison on its shelves. But surely, there must be something good in a drug store for every man. Olive oil has fallen into general use the world over. In the Eastern countries it is generously used as an article of food, in some places as a filler for night lamps, while in our midst, as an article of medicine of chief importance.

We are not called upon to be in harmony with the religious views of the Bible. Leave out the religion. But the Bible happens to be more than a mere religious book, and that is why it became generally known as the Book of Books. It is indispensable as a literary guide to the intelligent scholars. To the plain reader it is a book of history.

The members of other religions can ill afford to show any fear of the Spiritual influence of the Bible on the children, to do this it would be to disclose a weak spot. Wayword children are only the product of poor homes. A good home always manages to retain its offspring within its walls. The Bible, let me say in conclusion, is the backbone of this favored country. We violated its mandates by freely granting divorces, and we are beginning to clamor about social degeneracy. Samson's lesson with the Philistines is too vivid in our memory to be forgotten. We know wherein lieth our strength. Let us pray for divine help to continuously retain that strength. ALEX S. YEAGER.

PROGRESS OF THE NEGRO.

Booker T. Washington Urges Them to Get Out of Servant Class.

Philadelphia, Aug. 22.—Booker T. Washington spoke on the progress of the negro race in its 50 years of freedom and on the chances that the future holds for it, in his address in the Academy of Music, at the opening of the 14th annual convention of the National Negro Business League, of which he is president.

He urged that the blacks encourage industrial development among themselves rather than remain content in the serving class, and specially advised that they take up and cultivate farming lands in the South.

"We have answered the question as to our survival in a state of freedom," he said, "by showing that from 4,000,000 our numbers have increased to 10,000,000. The American negro population is more than twice as large as the population of Australia, one and one-half times as large as that of Canada, nearly as large as the combined population of Norway, Sweden, Switzerland and Denmark.

"As to our ability to support ourselves, the American Congress is asked every year to appropriate between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000 for the 300,000 American Indians, but Congress has not been called upon to provide a single dollar for clothes, shelter or food for our race. We have proved our ability to organize. There are 62 banks under the control of black organizations. We have four great church granches, with a total membership of 3,113,900 members, or about 33 per cent of the race. Our business and social organizations have a membership of 3,000,000 persons.

"There are 200,000,000 acres of unused and unoccupied land in the Southern States, a territory as large as Australia, France, Germany, Italy and Spain. We own and occupy 20,000,000 acres—about two acres for each individual. We should within the next quarter of a century own 40,000,000 acres. There is place for at least 900,000 independent, self-supporting negro farmers.

"It is possible to find openings in the South for 1,000 more sawmills and 1,000 brick yards, and North and South for 4,000 groceries. We need 2,000 additional dry goods stores, 1,500 shoe stores and 1,000 good restaurants. I want to see 1,500 bright colored women at the head of that number of millinery shops. We have 350 drug stores and room for 1,000 more; 60 negro banks, and 150 more should be organized. Seize these opportunities before it is too late."

NO RACES FOR YONKERS.

Text of Law Will Prevent Horse Racing.

New York, Aug. 22.—There will be no grand circuit meeting at Yonkers. The text of the bankruptcy laws, it has been decided, will prevent the Federal government from conducting its horse racing enterprise which is scheduled for the Empire City track next week.

Federal receivers of the National Fair & Exposition Company had been authorized by the United States district court here to hold the grand circuit races and the court had enjoined all creditors from attaching the receipts or interfering with the meeting in any way.

The National Trotting Association, however, it was announced tonight, has refused to sanction the meeting or collect the $19,380 in forfeits due until the receivers will agree to recognize unpaid claims of horsemen who raced at the first meet on the same track, early this month.

To comply with the association's demands would be a violation of the bankruptcy statutes, it was decided and the receivers called the races off.

Charged With Larceny.

Irvin Sampson and John Bryant, two colored boys, were arrested yesterday morning by the police department, on a warrant issued by Thomas Smith, a colored coal dealer, charging them with having stolen 25 cents from his boy. Smith stated that he sent his boy with 75 cents to pay a bill, and that these boys met him and took the money away from him. They were locked up and will have a hearing before the Recorder today. John Bryant, who is eight years old, told the police that he got the money, but later gave it back to the Smith boy.

New York, Aug. 22.—Chairman Edward E. McCall, of the Public Service commisison, today notified the Tammany leaders that he would accept Tammany Hall's nomination for the post of Mayor.

THOMAS-WRIGHT WEDDING BEAUTIFUL HOME AFFAIR

Garland, N. C., Aug. 20.—At the beautiful colonial home, "Coharie," the ancestral home of the Wrights for four generations, a wedding of unusual interest took place Thursday evening at 6 o'clock, when Miss Mary E. Wright, the youngest daughter of Mrs. Bettie Vaiden Wright, and Mr. George Brinton Thomas, of Colorado Springs, Col., were united in marriage.

Coharie, which has always been noted for its lavish Southern hospitality, never seemed more attractive than when its hospitable doors were thrown open for the wedding of this her youngest daughter. The portico with its stately columns had been decorated with palms, vines and evergreens, which trailed over the pergola under which the wedding vows were said.

As the many guests assembled in the old-time flower garden, a beautiful musical programme was rendered by Mrs. Robt. H. Wright, of Greenville, sister-in-law of the bride. Promptly at 6 o'clock as the first strains of the Wedding March from Lohengrin pealed forth Mr. and Mrs. Will Wright entered from opposite sides and crossing over took their places on the portico. Next came Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Kent, from the right side, and Dr. and Mrs. John Wright from the left, crossing over in the same order; following came Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Beverly G. Moss finished the circle of honor dames and groomsmen, the honor dames wearing white lace dresses over green, with accordeon plaited chiffon tunics, carrying armsful of crepe myrtle. The groomsmen were in white linen suits. Next came Mrs. H. B. Smith, first dame of honor, youngest sister of the bride, in her wedding gown, and Miss Olive Kent, niece of the bride, gowned in green satin, entrain, and carrying pink roses. The ushers, Dr. Henry Lee Sloan and Mr. Paul Murphy, came next.

Then all eyes centered on the bride, a type of Southern loveliness, as she entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Robt. H. Wright, of Greenville, N. C. She was gowned in white brocaded charmeuse, entrain, trimmed with duchess lace, with veil caught with pearls and orange blossoms, wearing the groom's gift, an exquisite lavellier of pearls.

The groom came from the opposite side, with his best man, Mr. Robt. E. Doone, of Elmira, N. Y. The ceremony was performed in a sweet and impressive manner by the Rev. George Matthis, as could be done only by one who loved the home and family of the bride. Schubert's Serenade was softly played during the ceremony. To the strains of Mendelssohn's March the bridal party left the altar and assembled on the portico, where they received the congratulations of their friends, while a delicious ice cream course was being served.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Bettie Vaiden Wright, of Coharie. She is a graduate of Salem College, and the Garland School of Boston. She is a young woman of unusual charm, sweet and gracious of manner, and has many friends in this and many other States, where she is well known.

The groom is a native of Youngstown, Ohio, and a graduate of Princeton University, and is at present at the head of the Department of Electrical Engineering of Colorado College.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas left by automobile for Garland, where they left by A. C. L. for Northern cities, Ohio and Colorado Springs, where they will make their home.

The bride was attired in a lovely brown crepe de chine going-away gown, with gloves, hat and shoes to match.

The House guests were: Mrs. Beverly Moss, of Washington N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, Wilson, N. C.; Miss Amy Thomas, Youngstown, Ohio; Mr. Robt. Doone, Pittsburg, Pa.; Mrs. A. A. Kent and Miss Olive Kent, Lenoir, N. C.; Mr. P. P. Murphy and Mr. C. C. Murphy, Atkinson, N. C.; Dr. J. G. Murphy, Wilmington, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Wright, Greensboro, N. C.; Miss Eliza Murphy and Mrs. C. C. Covington, Wilmington, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. B. V. Wright, Laurel, Miss.; Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Wright, Lincolnton, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Wright, Greenville, N. C., and Mrs. H. B. Smith, Tarboro, N. C.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Bud Hill, colored, was tried yesterday by Justice Harriss on the charge of vagrancy. Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs.

—A building permit was issued yesterday to Zeb Hodges for the erection of a six-room, one-story residence on Dock street between 15th and 16th streets, the estimated cost being $1,400.

—Sam Bellamy, colored, charged with simple assault, who was to have been tried yesterday before Justice Harriss, will be tried today. The case was postponed yesterday at the request of the defendant.

—The Atlantic Coast Line train from the North, due in Wilmington at 6:15 P. M., was delayed last night on account of connection at Rocky Mount, and did not arrive until 8.05 P. M.

—T. M. Jones, colored, was arrested last night by Officer W. R. Applebury for striking another negro with his fist. His mother gave bond for his appearance before the Recorder this morning.

—It is announced that a civil service examination will be given at Wilmington on September 6th, to secure eligibles from which to make certifications to fill a position as messenger boy in the United States Engineer's office in this city. Applicants must be at least 16 years old, and not over 18.

—Richmond Brown, colored, who lives at Acorn Branch near Wilmington, was arrested yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Reynolds on a warrant charging him with assaulting his wife. He was placed in jail, and will have a hearing before Justice Harriss today.

—Hattie Davis, colored, who was arrested Thursday night on a charge of assaulting her husband with an axe, will have a hearing before Justice Harriss this morning at 9 o'clock. The case was to have been heard yesterday, but was continued on account of the absence of witnesses.

—Frank Riggan, a young white man, who was arrested a few days ago in connection with recent store robberies at Delgado, was yesterday given hearing before the Clerk of Superior Court as to his sanity. He was declared by the clerk to be a sane person and was committed to jail to await action by the Recorder in the store robbery case.

—Deeds were filed for record yesterday as follows: B. Frank Brittain, Jr., and wife to W. D. MacMillan, Jr., for $100 and other considerations, lot on north side of Taylor street, 100 feet west of Fifth, 50x90 feet in size; The New Hanover Transit Co., to Thos. E. Cooper, for $10 and other considerations, lot 9 in block 35, Carolina Beach.

—An alarm was sent in to the fire department yesterday morning at 11 o'clock from box 114 on account of a slight blaze on Brunswick street, between Fifth and Sixth. The house was occupied by Mary Waters, colored. The damage was about $10. The blaze was started from sparks from the chimney.

—The trial of Herbert Johnson, John Skipper and Frank Riggan, three young men who are charged with store breaking at Delgado, was not held yesterday. They will probably have a hearing today before Justice Harriss. There is a warrant out for one other young man, charging him with having been implicated in the affair, but he has not yet been apprehended.

—Loafers around Front and Princess streets yesterday grinned when Chief of Police Williams made as if he were going to cut his corner short in driving from Princess into Front and Patrolman Charlie Wood, handling the traffic at that point, authoritatively waved his billy at his superior officer and bade him obey the traffic ordinance, which the chief, grinning also, did.

HAYWOOD SHIPPING APPLES.

Crop Short, But Movement Has Already Begun—Wheat Good.

Waynesville, Aug. 22.—While the apple crop of Haywood county is about one-third off this year, shipment of the fruit has already begun. The wheat crop is the largest and best produced in Haywood for years. The corn crop also is good, as is the hay crop. The oats crop is short, caused by excessive rain in the Spring.

Secretary J. D. Boone, of the Haywood Fair Association, is mailing literature, catalogue and premium list. The fair will be held September 30 and October 1, 2 and 3. This is the original Western Carolina fair, Haywood having been the first county in Western North Carolina to inaugurate a fair. New features will be added and the fair this year promises to be the best yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanby Bereaved.

This morning shortly after midnight the ten-months-old infant of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hanby died at the residence of Mr. Hanby's brother-in-law, Mr. C. D. Foard, No. 15 North Fifth street. The little one had been ill for some time. Funeral arrangements had not been made this morning. Sincere sympathy will be felt for the bereaved parents by their many friends, in the sad event.

WITH THE MOVIES

Week-End at Grand.

The Grand has prepared a choice, rare assortment of things for presentation at the people's favorite amusement spot today. Each film will be a star and there will be plenty of them, while there will be just the dandiest kind of music and, of course, the usual solid comfort of the Grand. Yes, the same small price, 5 cents, afternoon and night, will be maintained. Heading the film bill will be a great Lubin success. "A False Friend." It is a thrilling tale of the West and deals with a theme that is new. Among the other big photoplays for today will be Pathe's latest Weekly, which will carry the onlookers to points of interest in Europe and the United States, and will come to a rousing, most laughable climax with a "Mutt and Jeff" picture. Folks must not miss today's big bill at the comfortable Grand.

At the Bijou.

Wilmington's peculiarly delightful and wonderful joy spot—the popular Bijou, has a great offering for today, to climax one of the best week's in its history and to furnish the great Saturday crowds with the best obtainable. It has such a programme for today as will appeal to every state, stirring with thrilling dramatic and convulsirg with laughter with clean, wholesome comedy, while giving information and education on the side with films of this nature. "The Two Ranchmen," a story of today's features. "Athletics in France" will be on the bill and will be one of the most entertaining of all films. It will appeal with powerful force to all lovers of sports.

A remarkable travelogue in "Places of Interest in Colorado" will also be a feature. There will, of course, be others and the merriest kind of newest music.

MISSIONS AT MONTREAT.

Conference Has Given Impetus to the Cause of Foreign Work.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Montreat, Aug. 22.—The Montreat conference on foreign missions, of the Southern Presbyterian church, has given added impetus to that special department of the work of this church. The foreign mission work of this church is represented on seven fields—Africa, Brazil, China, Cuba, Japan, Korea and Mexico and fourteen missionaries, representing these different fields have been present and have addrssed this confrence.

Among the other prominent men who have taken special part on the programme of this conference are the following named: Rev. W. M. McPheeters, D. D., of Columbia, S. C., who has conducted the daily Bible study; Rev. A. B. Curry, D. D., pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, Memphis, Tenn., who preached the conference sermon; Rev. H. F. Williams, D .D., of Nashville, Tenn., educational secrtary of the executive committee of foreign missions who has led the mission study class each day of the conference; Rev. Walter L. Lingle, D. D., of Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, and his brother, Rev. W. H. Lingle, D. D., of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., and who is now a missionary in China, and Rev. S. H. Chester, D. D., of Nashville, secretary of foreign committee of foreign missions. Dr. Chester presided over rthe sessions of the conference and he was the chief factor in the making of the programme.

The missionaries of Southern Presbyterians on the seven foreign fields of the church number at this time 288 and they are assisted in their work by 922 native workers. During the past year the number of additions to the church on the foreign fields was 3,185, giving an average of 31 additions to each missionary.

The past year has been one that has been marked with signal success for the cause of foreign missions in this church, and this fact increased the spirit of enthusiasm and hopefulness which marked the sessions of the Montreat conference. One year ago the executive committee of foreign missions was hampered with a debt of $104,568, but during the twelve months that have passed since then the church has contributed $631,069 to the cause of foreign missions, thus changing the deficit of last year to a surplus of $7,597 at the present time. Another fact of special interest in this connection is that during this year when the largest contribution in the history of the church has been made to foreign missions, the largest number of missionaries have been sent to the field, forty-one having been sent in the past twelve months; fourteen of these new missionaries went to Africa, twenty to Korea, five to China and two to Brazil. This reinforcement of the missionaries in Korea and Africa practically equip the stations of this church in these fields and give all of the workers necessary at this time, with the exception of two physicians and two trained nurses which are very much needed in Africa. Among the special gifts for foreign missions received during the past year was one of $5,500 to be used for the purpose of building a hospital at Luebo, Africa.

Six of the foreign missionaries of church have died during the past year and thirteen have been compelled to retire from active work as the result of ill health, but the large number of new missionaries that have been sent out prevents a deficit of workers. China is the field of the church where the greatest need for an increased number of missionaries exists at this time, and the church is making special appeal in the interest of meeting this need as soon as possible.

WANTS TO BUY WATER WORKS.

Durham Talking Bond Issue to Take Over Water System.

Durham, Aug. 22.—A big bond issue for the purpose of purchasing the water works and also for street improvement is being talked in Durham, but no steps have been taken towards calling an election for these bonds. Some of the leading citizens of the city are in favor of a big bond issue that will give the city enough money to purchase the water works and do a good deal of permanent street work. Others think that such a large issue, something like a million dollars, would not pass. It is the general opinion here that there would be little trouble to carry a bond issue of half a million for the purchase of the water works. The machinery for this bond issue has already been prepared, a bill having passed the last legislature permitting the board of aldermen to call for an election on this question any time they saw fit to do so. No steps have been taken towards doing this by the present board, though they have continued the committee on water, and are biding their time, when something will have to be done.

Edinburg, Scotland, Aug. 22.—Two forest fires of incendiary origin today did heavy damage here. Suffragettes are suspected.

Wrightsville Beach

The regular week-end dance will be given at Lumina tonight and it is expected that there will be a large attendance.

MissCarolyn Northrop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Northrop, has returned to the beach from Swannanoa, where she spent several weeks.

Mrs. Edward E. Britton, wife of the associate editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, is spending a while at the Seashore Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Rivenbark, of Burgaw, who have been spending a few days at the beach, returned to their home last night.

Misses Josephine Johnson, Alma Messer and Marguerite Sibley have returned to their home at Birmingham, Ala., afte rspending several weeks at the Seashore Hotel.

Rev. Andrew J. Howell will preach at the Beach Chapel Sunday evening. A cordial invitation is given to the residents at the sea shore to attend the services.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Jarnigan and their young daughter, Miss Erskine, returned to their home in Atlanta yesterday afternoon after spending several weeks at the beach.

Yesterday's Charlotte Observer: "Miss Mamie Gray, of Statesville, is visiting Mrs. Laura Ross Hargrave, on South Graham street. Miss Gray is en route home after spending several weeks at Wrightsville Beach."

Arrivals at the Oceanic Hotel yesterday included Lewis D. Phillips, H. H. Tarver, Atlanta; W. H. Lawton Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Thos. H. Jones, Greensboro; Miss Jewell Henry, Miss Bright Henry, Lilesville; Miss Mary Belle May, Morven; Mrs. L. J. Joyner, Rocky Mount; Mr. and Mrs. Loran A. Kerr, McBee, S. C.

Among the arrivals at the Seashore Hotel yesterday were Mrs. Edward E. Britton, Raleigh; Harry T. Moore, Mrs. Grace P. Moore, Penchen Moore, Grace Moore, Atlanta; Jack W. Hardie, Greensboro; Mrs. Alice Wright, Nashville, Tenn.; W. R. Talbott, Waynesboro, Va.; J. W. Manory, Anniston, Ala.

Mr. Charles E. Hooper, manager of the Oceanic Hotel, and Capt. Edgar L. Hinton, manager of the Seashore Hotel, were photographed this week by Mr. T. A. Matthews of the Abananza studio. The photograph will be sent to the National Hotel Men's Magazine so that the hotelists of the country can have a view of the smiling faces of these two popular directors of the two large hotels at the beach.

It is expected that there will be a large number of visitors to the beach who will arrive Sunday to spend several days at the resort. A special train will leave over the Seaboard from Atlanta this afternoon at 6 o'clock. The Seaboard has put on exceedingly low rates for the trip, and there will no doubt be a large number who will take advantage of this opportunity to visit the beach. Both the Oceanic and Seashore hotels have made many reservations already.

"MILK SICK" IN AVERY.

Congressman Webb Acked to Have Expert Sent to Investigate.

Minneapolis, N. C., Aug. 22.—In a letter to Representative Webb, Dr. L. E. Clark, of Minneapolis, Avery county, calls the attention of the Ninth district Congressman to the existence of a much dreaded disease known in that section as "milk sick" and asks Mr. Webb to have the United States public health service send a surgeon to Minneapolis to make an investigation. Cows contract the disease more quickly than any other stock, though horses, sheep and hogs are susceptible. The disease is communicated to human beings through milk and butter before it can be detected in the cows.

"Many people have died of the milk sick" says Dr. Clark, "and those who recover are physical wrecks the balance of their lives. This is a serious and dreaded scourge around here and at this writing there are many people suffering from it in this vicinity."

Mr. Webb has taken the matter up with the department and it is believed one of the government's surgeons will be dispatched to Minneapolis at once.

KILLS TO GET TOBACCO.

Reformatory Inmate Stabs Another, Hoping to be Sent to Prison.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Aug. 22.—Edward Morton, an inmate of the State reformatory here, stabbed and killed Charles Bartle, another inmate, late today. Morton said he bore Bartle no ill-will, and that he stabbed him so that he could be sent to the Indiana State prison at Michigan City, where the prisoners are given tobacco.

"As I have not long to live, could you not let me have some tobacco?" Morton asked Supt. B. C. Peyton, when told that Bartle was dead.

Both men had been sentenced to the reformatory on petit larceny charges, and were employed in the shot shop. Morton used a shoe knife and drove it into Bartle's back as they came out of the barber shop.

HUSBAND TIRED OF SEEING HER SUFFER

Procured Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which made His Wife a Well Woman.

Middletown, Pa.—"I had headache, backache and such awful bearing down pains that I could not be on my feet at times and I had organic inflammation so badly that I was not able to do my work. I could not get a good meal for my husband and one child. My neighbors said they thought my suffering was terrible.

"My husband got tired of seeing me suffer and one night went to the drug store and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told me I must take it. I can't tell you all I suffered and I can't tell you all that your medicine has done for me. I was greatly benefited from the first and it has made me a well woman. I can do all my housework and even helped some of my friends as well. I think it is a wonderful help to all suffering women. I have got several to take it after seeing what it has done for me."—Mrs. EMMA ESPENSHADE, 219 East Main St., Middletown, Pa.

The Pinkham record is a proud and honorable one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of woman—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

COTTON EXTREMELY NERVOUS

Unsettled Condition Due to Reports of Better Weather in the Southwest—Part of Recent Heavy Loss Recovered.

New York, Aug. 22.—The cotton market was extremely nervous and unsettled today owing to reports of better weather in the Southwest, but a sharp break under heavy realizing was followed by a less active business, and part of the loss was recovered, with the close steady at a net decline of 9 to 11 points. Detailed weather reports showed no important precipitation in the Southwest, and continued high temperatures for the 24 hours ending this morning, but the official forecast confirmed private predictions of showers of unsettled conditions, and many private wires were received reporting showers or rains at both Texas and Oklahoma points during the afternoon.

Liverpool was evidently influenced by the weather news, and prices there weer considerably lower than due. The local market opened at a decline of six to seven points in consequence, and quickly broke to a loss of about 16 points on the active new crop months. The reaction proved sufficient to bring in quite a lot of buying orders, which steadied the market only momentarily, in view of the weather news and after a rally of six to seven points, prices again eased off with December contracts selling at 11.38 or 14 to 15 points net lower.

Another rally ollowed on the detailed weather reports and the market at one time sold at practically the closing figures of yesterday, but retained very much unsettled and declined again in the late trading under private rain news, closing within four or five points of the lowest on active positions.

Spot cotton, quiet. Middling uplands, 12.15; gnif, 12.40; sales, 200 bales.

THE WEEKLY COTTON REVIEW

Market Showed More Activity During the Past Week—Weather Conditions Main Factors in Determining Prices.

New York, Aug. 22.—The cotton market has been very much more active during the past week, with prices selling up nearly 80 points or about $4 per bale, from recent low records on general buying inspired by a less favorable view of the coming crop. The continuation of dry, hot weather in the Southwest, accompanied by numerous reports of serious deterioration in the crop outlook both in Texas and Oklahoma while scattering reports of deterioration also came in from the Eastern belt, and at times the market seemed nearer a crop scare tha nat any other period so far this season.

Probably an idea that the almost universally favorable view of the prospective yield prevailing earlier in the Summe rhad resulted in the formation of a very large short interest contributed to the advance and bulls argued tha ttoo many people were waiting for the new crop movement to make a buying basis. Reports of scattering rains or showers in the Southwest checked the upward movement around 11.65 for December contracts, however, and the market today was nervous and irregular, with sellers claiming that neither the advance nor the character of the crop news had materially stimulated the demand from the spinners and that the reduction in the short interest would render the market much more sensitive to any real break in the drouth or to increasing new crop receipts.

Bearish views were less generally and more guardedly expressed than earlier in the month, however, suggesting that the developments of the week had shaken confidence in the very large crop views to some extent and while it was felt that many depended upon whether the Southwestern drouth was effectually broken many traders were predicting continued nervousness pending publication of the September Bureau. This report, which is expeced at noon on September 2d is now thought likely to show a considerable deterioration for the month, although some predict tha tthe actual condition will prove neraly equal to the September bureau of 1911.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Aug. 22.—Cotton goods markets remain firm in the dry goods division but trading for the day was less broad, owing to an easing in cotton. Wool markets are very steady, with a broader demand noted in carpet woots. The world's raw silk markets show a crop shortage of 20 per cent., which accounts for the rapid rise for the past two weeks.

GERMANY TO FRISCO.

Athletes Will Participate in the Panama Exposition in 1915.

Berlin, Aug. 21.—James E. Sullivan, secretary o fthe amateur athletic union, today obtained th epromise that a team of German athletes would be sent to San Francisco to compete at Panama-Pacific Exposition in 1915.

In return for this courtesy, it is considered likely that the American team, which is to compete in the Greek Olympic games at Athens in the Spring of 1914, will make a trip to Berlin and participate in an athletic meet there.

Representatives of France, Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Finland gave assurances to Mr. Sullivan during the afternoon that their countries would be represented at the exposition by teams of athletes. Hungary also will probably send a team.

LITTLE CHANGE IN STOCKS

Slow Recession Succeeded by a Recovery Equally Slow—Leading Shares Near Old Figures at Close of Market.

New York, Aug. 22.—A slow recession, which carried down a dozen or more stocks from one to two points today, was succeeded by an equally slow recovery, and at the end of the session the leading shares were close to yesterday's final.

Selling on the decline was concentrated on Steel, Union Pacific and Reading, and the heaviness of these shares affected the remainder. Reports of rains in sections of the corn and cotton belts helped to bring about the recovery.

Affairs in Mexico occupied less attention today. Reports of a record-breaking foreign trade for July and the last year passed alomost unheeded.

A small gain in cash for the banks on the week was indicated by known movement of currency. There was an easier tendency in the money market with quotable changes for the shorter maturities. Commercial paper was easier. Country banks continued to buy in volume.

Bonds were a shade off. Total sales, par value, $1,150,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales were 192,000 including C. & O. 5,200; L. V. 1,700; N. & W. 100; Reading 24,800; S. Onslow Progress, Jacksonville: "Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Cox, of Richlands, went to Wrightsville Beach last Saturday, for a few days' rest and recreation. Mr. and Mrs. Cox did not enjoy a honeymoon tour after their nuptials in June, owing to the illness of Mrs. Cox's brother and they are probably contributing to sustain the ancient custom of a flight from the tribal home of the bride."

BRADSTREET'S REVIEW.

Optimism and Good Buying Dominant Notes in Week's Trading.

New York, Aug. 22.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"Optimism concurrant with good buying furnished the keynote for this week's trade report. Visiting buyers held sway in most of the leading markets, and while these from parts of the drouth afflicted Southwest have operated quite conservatively the general ru nhave bought witm more or less liberality. In consequence house trade, especially in drygoods and allied lines has broadened.

"Taken by and large, the situation is encouraging and it is patent that the prolonged policy of buying from hand-to-mouth has stripped shelves, as the result of which a reaction toward extensive buying has set in. Advices from textile mill centers indicate that idle machinery is starting up and at the same time complaints of slow deliveries abound.

"Business failures for the week ending August 21st, were 278, compared with 264 in 1912.

"Wheat, including flour exports from the United States and Canada for the week aggregate 7,032,587 bushels against 3,338,569 last year."

BRYAN TO STUMP MAINE.

In Behalf of Democratic Candidate for Congress from Third District.

Washington, Aug. 21.—Secretary Bryan will spend two days early in September stumping the Third Maine Congressional district for William Pettangal, the Democratic candidate. This was announced today following a conference at the White House between President Wilson, Representative McGillicuddy, and Representative Palmer, of the Congressional campaign committee.

As the campaign will be largely on National issues, the National administration will take a lively interest. Mr. Bryan probably will speak at Augusta, about September 1st.

Republican leaders have obtained promises from Representative Kain, California, and Green and Towner, of Iowa; Gardner, of Massachusetts; Foss, of Ohio, and Anderson, of Minnesota, and conditional promises from Senator Borah, of Idaho; Representative Kelly, of Michigan, and others to speak for the Republican candidate.

WILLIAMS THE WINNER

In Tennis Singles Championship Tournament at Newport.

Newport R. I., Aug. 21.—Of the 148 tennis players who entered the 33rd annual all comers singles championship tournament of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association Monday, there remains just one in the list tonight. After a day of sensational contests in which the deefat of William M. Johnston by Norris Williams was the feature, it was conceded tha tthe standard of play had never reached the point of excellence which marked the present tourney.

Williams required four sets in which to win from Johnston, the scores being 6-3, 6-4, 3-6, 8-6, but the margin of victory was far closer than the score o fgames would indicate. It was athrilling battle of racquets and wits and in the end the Philadelphian conquered because of his experience, and nonchalence under stress of a gruelling contest.

DUNN HAVING TROUBLE.

Can't Get Right of Way for Sewerage Ditch to Black River.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Dunn, N. C., Aug. 22.—Mayor Marvin L. Wade and the town commissioners are having a good deal of trouble trying to get the land owners between the town and Black river, where the sewerage system now being installed, will empty, to sign permits allowing the contractor to dig the necessary ditches across their lands. Mayor Wade had intended going to Wrightsville to represent our city, but could not get off because of this trouble. Ex-Mayor O. P. Shell went down in his automobile and had quite a successful trip. His friends are very much elated over his re-election to the office of secretary and treasurer of the Municipal Association.

The farmers around Dunn are now looking on the bright side of life and are no longer calamity howling, as the crops look very promising indeed and they are having weather for saving their forage. We believe that we have some of the finest farm land in the South. And the same impression is made on visitors.

ter where they send him so long as it is across the border. Once in the United States, the road to Matteawan is practically clear. We have been in negotiation with officials in every State to which there is a probability of his being sent."

Jerome to Help in Case.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 22.—William Travers Jerome, former district attorney of New York county, was appointed by Attorney General Carmody today a special deputy attorney general to represent the State in procuring the return of Harry K. Thaw to New York jurisdiction. He was selected because of his familiarity with the Thaw case, gained in the two murder trials, and as special counsel in several of Thaw's attempts to establish his sanity.

It is not the present intention to send Mr. Jerome to Canada, but to employ his services in procuring the extradition of Thaw from any State to which he may be deported from Canada. Attorney General Carmody said tonight he had reason to believe Vermont would be the State to which the fugitive would be returned, and that the date would be next Wednesday. Earlier in the day a similar announcement was made by Acting Governor Glynn, and was embodied in a telegram to Governor Fletcher, of Vermont, requesting his good offices in effecting an expeditious return of Thaw to New York. Neither Mr. Glynn nor Mr. Carmody would discuss the source of their information, but it is known that the attorney general was in telephonic communication with his deputy in Canada. Some surprise was expressed at the apparent certainty of these officials that Thaw would be deported next Wednesday, as that is the date set for hearing his habeas corpus application at Sherbrooke, Que.

Sulzer and Glynn Active.

Both gubernatorial claimants received communications during the day from Federal authorities respecting the Thaw extradition.

Secretary of State Bryan telegraphed to Mr. Sulzer and wrote to Mr. Glynn, apprising them that he would do what he could in the matter, although hampered by lack of authority. A telegram to Mr. Glynn and Mr. Carmody from Secretary of Labor Wilson was of the same import.

Mr. Bryan employed no official titles in addressing either Mr. Sulzer or Mr. Glynn. This is his letter to Acting Governor Glynn:

"Replying to your telegram, which is signed by you jointly with the attorney general of the State of New York, I beg leave to state that as the case of Harry K. Thaw, who is reported to be in custody in the province of Quebec with a view to his deportation under the Canadian immigration laws is not, in its present aspect, within our extradition treaties with Great Britain. It is not a matter in respect to which the department is in a position to make a request on the British or Canadian governments. Steps, however, have been taken to bring the matter in a personal sense to the notice of the Canadian authorities with a view to such action as they may find themselves justified in voluntarily taking."

Detectives Still at Work.

New York, Aug. 22.—Detectives trailing three of the five men who aided Harry K. Thaw to escape from Matteawan asylum notified the Dutchess county authorities today that two of the fugitives had been in the city Wednesday night, but that none of them could now be found.

Richard J. Butler and Eugene Duffy, the detectives state, spent money freely in Broadway cafes during their brief stay here after Thaw's escape, boasted that they had foiled the police and told their cronies they were going to Atlantic City. Michael O'Keefe the third man, had not been in the city, so far as the detectives could learn since Thaw's escape.

Roger Thompson is now under arrest at Sherbrooke, leaving only one of the quintet—Thomas Flood—to be accounted for. The detectives believe he was the reticent man with Thompson when Thaw was arrested.

LANDED IN "X-RAY" GOWN.

Maria Mayer, of Stettin, Detained by Customs Inspectors.

Philadelphia, Aug. 22.—As she stood for a moment silhouetted against a bright midday sun wearing an "X-ray" gown, the appearance of Miss Maria Mayer, of Stettin, Germany, caused a near panic among the passengers, immigration officials and interpreters, who met the steamship Cassell which arrived here from Bremen.

Then came the run down the gangplank. She seemed not to care for the bulging eyes nor to realize that her flimsy costume was in any way unusual until it came her turn to pass the immigration officials.

The inspectors took one look and Miss Mayer was ordered to be detained. The reasons were not given out. But Inspector Hughes, of the Gloucester Detention Station, would not affirm or deny the statement that it was because she was not properly clothed.

Here was no ordinary every-day X-ray costume seen every warm day on Chestnut street. It was more, or rather less, than that. It was the real thing in transparent flimsiness and it might have been made of mosquito netting.

Just why she selected this gown for her first appearance in America she would not say. Other passengers on the ship vouchsafed the information that Miss Mayer possessed an extensive wardrobe. She made the long voyage unaccompanied and told the inspectors she was on her way to visit a married sister in Pittsburg whose name she would not divulge. She will have a hearing before a special board of inquiry.

NAVAL MILITIA TO TRAIN.

Washington Division Leaves for Norfolk Sunday to Embark.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, N. C., Aug. 22.—The local division of the North Carolina naval militia, under command of Lieut. Charles Lamb Morton, will leave Sunday night for Norfolk where they will embark on the United States ship Alabama for their Summer cruise. A number of other companies of naval reserves from this State will also go on the same ship.

The Alabama will cruise for about a week or ten days, instructing the naval reserves in target practice, and other naval tactics. They will touch at New York and other points along the coast.

rero. Previously large numbers moved north and now are almost encircling the capital. The official explanation is that they chose this direction, other exits from Morelos being closed. Reports published today, equally official, say DeLao, at the head of a well organized band of rebels, is entrenched at Lepelte, Morelos, and that still other bands have been accounted for in the same State.

The Government Satisfied.

The Government is displaying keen satisfaction over its energetic campaign of extermination. Scores of small towns have been destroyed, hundreds of families dispossessed and many young men shot. Since the followers of Zapata invaded the federal district, General Robles has destroyed seven towns within a few miles of the capital, including Ajusco which is almost within sight of the city. In those destroyed towns only the churches were left standing, and they have been abandoned by the priests whose congregations have disappeared. Three more towns near the capital were ordered destroyed today.

The followers of Zapata are more active than ever in their campaign of destruction and personal outrages. They are raiding numerous villages and ranches and subjecting their victims to torture. The government papers describe these outrages as "the last struggles of the wounded beast."

For some days the badly informed public believed that Pachuca, capital of Hidalgo, was in danger of attack, but has been re-assured by the government which announced today that it was sending 500 reinforcements there. Around Pachuca are a number of important mines. Americans and Englishmen are preparing to defend them.

El Pais reported today that there was a greatly increased rebel movement in the State of Jalisco. All the newspapers today print news of the defeat of the rebel chief Candino Novarro, near Silao, State of Guanajuato. The public previously had believed this State free from rebels.

The State of Zacatecas admittedly is infested by rebels, but the government expresses confidence that it is able et maintain control there.

Mexican Press Comments.

Al lthe newspapers of Mexico city today print without editorial comment Washington dispatches telling of the introduction in the United States Senate by Senator Penrose, of a resolution requesting President Wilson to take the necessary steps to place United States troops in Mexico for the protection of American lives and property.

El Independiente follows its article with an editor's note assuring its readers that the action of Senator Penrose expresses only his personal opinion, and does not reflect the sentiment of the United States, nor the views of the American people.

"Therefore," the writer adds, "it should not wound our patriotism."

President Wilson's message dealing with negotiations which have been conducted with the Huerta government through his personal representative here, John Lind is awaited with great interest by Mexicans and Americans in Mexico.

Discuss Special Session.

Mexico City, Aug. 22.—The advisability of calling an extra session of Congress to deal with the situation growing out of the representations of President Wilson to provisional President Huerta was discussed today by the permanent committee of Congress.

A proposed amendment to a resolution to call an extra session precipitated a debate. The amendment favored trying for sedition the introducers of the resolution.

Another amendment providing that the President report to the committee the nature of the negotiations with the United States Government was offered by Manuel Malo Juvera. Failure to pass this resolution under a suspension of the rules resulted in its being referred to a committtee, which will be unable to report before next Friday's session and since the regular session of Congress will begin September 15th the deputies believe the calling of a special session is improbable.

Deputy Mangel Killed.

Mexico City, Aug. 22.—Deputy Bordes Mangel was shot to death tonight by Federal soldiers near Atzcapotzalco, a suburb of the capital. Mangel was a friend of the late President Madero and recently was subjected to an investigation on a charge of sedition.

The explanation of the shooting, as given by the local newspapers, is tha ta detachment of soldiers came upon Mangel on the road, and that Mangel ,single-handed, attacked the soldiers with stones. The soldiers, the newspapers say, found it necessary to fire in self-defense and Mangel was killed. It is added by the newspapers that Mangel must have been insane.

REMEMBER MADAME MELEAN.

Wilson Has a Fortune Teller and is Looking Alive for Results.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., Aug. 22.—Wilson is beginning to feel like putting on "city airs"—for a real live "fortune teller" has located in this busy community. With recollections of recent newspaper stories of the experiences of Wilmington and Charlotte people who risked their faith in a certain woman of fortune-telling fame, Wilsonians are watching for developments.

Of course, it may not be the same party and the methods may not be the same, but nevertheless there is considerable conjecture. In the meantime the office has been opened and the advertising has been begun with attractive handbills to catch the attention of those who desire to learn of their fate.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 22.—The council of the American Pharmaceutical Association, in session here today re-elected the former officers as follows: Chairman, Eugene G. Eberle Texas; Vice Chairman, F. C. Godbold, of Louisiana; Secretary, Joseph W. England, of Pennsylvania. Officers were elected by the section on historical pharmacy as follows: William C. Alphers, of New York, chairman; F. T Gordon, of Philadelphia, Secretary.

Bristol, Va.-Tenn., August 22.—President J. S. Ashworth, of the Bristol Club of the Appalachian League, today announced the sale of Outfielder Hickman, one of the fastest in this league, of the Bristol team, to Winston-Salem, N. C., to report Monday. The consideration was not made public.

Decatur, Ala., Aug. 22.—Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson left here for Washington, having cancelled his political speaking dates. He said before leaving that he wished to be present when President Wilson transmits his message dealing with the Mexican situation to Congress.

Fortified with the backing of one of the makers of the Baltimore platform, Representatives Glass and Underwood met the demand for an amendment to prohibit inter-locking directorates with a counter proposal that the Democrats of the House take up general legislation against inter-locking directorates at the next session.

A resolution by Representative Underwood, adopted by a vote of 130 to 66, referred the entire subject to the Democratic members of the Judiciary Committee of the House, and directed them to bring in a bill at the next session of Congress that would prevent inter-locking directorates of all kinds.

Administration leaders tonight said the large vote that supported the Underwood motion, and the hearty approval that greeted Secretary Bryan's endorsement of the bill assured the approval of the complete Glass bill with but little change. There remain several important amendments to be considered, but it was declared that the only important modification would be a change to make it clear that agricultural paper will be the same credit as commercial or common industrial paper.

The amendment over which the fight waged throughout the day had been offered by Representative Neely of Kansas, one of the so-called "insurgent" members of the banking and currency committee. It was not until near the close of the session that Chairman Glass, after declaring that President Wilson did not want such an amndmnt incorporated in the bill, brought forth the Bryan letter. He also produced a letter addressed to him by Samuel Untermyer, who was counsel for the Pujo Money Trust Committee, saying he did not believe the inter-locking directorate provision should be in the currency bill.

Objecting members who had questioned Mr. Glass' interpretation of the President's attitude gave way before the vigorous assertions of Secretary Bryan and a vote quickly settled the question.

In his letter Mr. Bryan declared that for many years he had advocated a law preventing a duplicating of directorates.

"While the principle applies to banks as well as to trusts—although I think, in a less degree," the Secretary wrote, "the plan has been considered mainly as a means of dealing with the trust evil. Competition cannot be effectively prevented where the same men act as directors of competing companies.

"I am as much in favor of the remedy now as I was when I began to advocate it. In fact, more so, because recent disclosures have given further proof of the employment of this means of eliminating competition; but I don't think it wise to make it a part of the pending currency bill. In attempting to secure remedial legislation care must be taken not to overload a good measure with amendments, however good these amendments may be in themselves. A boat may be sunk if you attempt to make it carry too much, however valuable the merchandise.

"A bill is usually the result of a compromise. The President and Secretary McAdoo in conjunction with the chairman of the Currency Comformulated a tentaive measure. It was prepared after extended investigation and the comparison of views. It embodies certain provisions of great importance and is, I believe, fundamentally sound. The provision in regard to the Government issue of the notes to be loaned to banks is the first triumph of the people in connection with currency legislation in a generation. It is hard to over-estimate the value of this feature of the bill.

"In the second place the bill provides for government control of the issue of this money—that is, control through a board composed of government officials appointed by the President with the approval of the Senate. This is another distinct triumph for the people, one without which the Government issue of the money would be largely a barren victory. A third provision in this bill which I regard as of first importance as the one permitting State banks to share with National banks the advantages of the currency system proposed.

"These three provisions are, to my mind, of such transcendent importance that I am relatively but little concerned as to the details of the bill. I do not mean to say that the details are unimportant, but whatever mistakes may be made in details can be corrected easily and soon. A wrong step in the matter of principle would be more difficult to retrace. I take it for granted that no one who really is in favor of the bill will permit a difference of opinion on a matter of detail to lead him to jeopardize the bill.

"The papers have, in a few cases, reported members of Congress as presenting views which were alleged to be mine. I do not know to what extent these reports may exaggerate what has been said and done, but you are authorized to speak for me and say that I appreciate so profoundly the service rendered by the President to the people in the stand that he has taken on the fundamental principles involved that I am with him on all the details.

"If my opinion has influenced with any one who is called upon to act upon this measure, I am willing to assume full responsibility for what I dot when I advise him to stand by the President and assist in securing the passage of this measure at the earliest possible moment. I am sure that the President will be ready to join in making any change in detail that can be made to advantage, and being sure of his singleness of purpose, Iam willing to leave the future action, the correction of any provision which he may now regard as essential, to the plan and purpose of the bill."

Democratic members of the Senate Currency Committee today discussed the advisability of holding a brief series of hearings after the bill reaches the Senate. If such hearings are given, they will be restricted to the testimony of men invited by the committee to appear.

The President Pleased.

President Wilson tonight expressing his warm admiration of the way in which the House Ways and Means Committee was doing its work under the Banking and Currency Committee, issued the following statement:

"I am proud, as every Democrat must, of the may in which the committee and the caucus have accomplished a consistent piece of constructive work. With frankest discussion and under the ablest leadership, the Democrats have shown their capacity as a party to serve the country by an admirable piece of business legislation. It must stimulate the country to see such evidences of harmony along with constructive purpose in a work of no small complexity and difficulty."

A. & M. HEALTH CONDITIONS.

No Sourse of Typhoid Infection at State Institution—Statements.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 22.—A rigid examination of the sanitary condition of the Agricultural and Mechanical College has just been concluded. This examination was conducted by Dr. Joseph R. Ridlon, of the United States public health service, aided by the State board of health and the college physician. It was made at the request of the college authorities to ascertain whether there was any source of typhoid fever infection in the college grounds. It covered every possible source of fever infection in the buildings and on the grounds. The reasons for the examination and the results of the investigation are stated below by the college physician, Dr. McK. Tucker:

"The enrollment of students for the past year was 669. One case of typhoid developed on May 17th. No other cases occurred during the session. After the close of the college, two students who remained to work during vacation developed typhoid. One of these was not rooming, or eating in college, nor working for the college. The other was eating at a private house, but rooming in the college and working on the farm. Neither was nursed at the college. After the close of the college term seven students developed typhoid at their homes. Two of these were away from college long enough to have contracted fever after leaving Raleigh; the other five were not. As soon as the first cases occurred an investigation of them was begun by the college, aided, at our request by the State board of health, to which body we always report serious sickness. To make the investigation as thorough as possible and to get the benefit of wide experience, the United States surgeon general was asked to detail an expert for further investigation. Dr. Joseph R. Ridlon was sent and for three weeks has given his untiring attention to a study of everything connected with the health of the institution."

Dr. Ridlon, passed assistant surgeon, makes the following statement:

"A rigid investigation has been made of all possible sources of typhoid fever at the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts with the result that there has been found no probable source of infection on the college grounds or in the buildings. A broken sewer pipe was found in proximity to a water pipe, but this can be regarded only as a remote possible source of infection. Minor changes in the sewer system are being made which should make the sanitary conditions excellent."

Dr. W. S. Rankin, State health officer, says:

"Many parents, whose boys are intending to enter the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts this Fall, may be unduly alarmed over the occurrence of a few cases of typhoid fever among the students of that institution. It therefore seems timely that, as State health officer, I should make the following statement: Ever since my official work brought me in touch with the work of this college, now over four years ago, I have been impressed with the very unusual and commendable solicitude of the president of the college for the health of his students. The recent publicity given the occurrence of fever among the students was due almost solely to the president's insisting on a very thorough investigation of possible sources of the infection. I have kept in touch with the investigation and do not hesitate to state that I regard the A. & M. College as a safe place and just as free from possible sources of typhoid infection as an institution can be."

BITS OF HISTORY

RICHARD III AND HENRY VII

At the Battle of Bosworth Field, August 22, 1485, Richard II was slain and the Earl of Richmond, who had long been impatient for the Crown, was crowned on the battlefield and became Henry VII.

Richard had worn his brilliant crown into battle and had become a shining mark for his foes which cost him his life.

People often parade their jewels or their money and in this way become shining marks for their enemies. Display of wealth by excessive jewel wearing and the exhibition of money is vulgar and dangerous. Well bred persons accumulate wealth quietly and later enjoy it unostentatiously. Are you accumulating?
